TOKYO NOW UNDER RULE OF MILITARY

Anti-Peace Demonstrations in Capital Have Serious Aspect.

SOLDIERY MOBILIZED

Rioting Begun on Tuesday Is Renewed at a Late Hour on Thursday.

SITUATION VERY THREATENING

Turbulent Crowds Throng the Streets, and Incendiarism Is Resorted to. Censors Suppressing Press Cables. Roosevelt Displays Concern.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, Sept. 7, 4 p. m.—It is reported that there is rioting at Chiba, a town with a population of 20,000, 20 miles east of Tokyo. The prefectorate building and the court house are reported to have been burned.

The government has suspended the further publication of the Hiroku, a newspaper printed in Tokyo.

TOKYO, Sept. 6.—9 p. m.—(Delayed in transmission.)—An imperial ordinance establishes martial law in Tokyo. Disorder was resumed tonight.

PEKIN, Sept. 7.—Messages received here today from a good source at Tokyo represent the situation there as grave. The Japanese government is apparently censoring the telegrams.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Not until late this evening did the president learn of the serious disturbances in Tokyo. The information was in the form of the dispatch to the Associated Press. He expressed concern over the situation that had developed over the riots, but had no comments to make then.

Thus far, it is said officially, no advices have been received from Minister Driscoll at Tokyo, or from any other official source in Japan regarding the anti-peace demonstrations. Such advices as might be received naturally would go to the state department, but it is quite certain that any information of a serious character would be transmitted immediately to the president. No such advices have yet reached President Roosevelt.

TOKYO, Sept. 5.—7 p. m.—Serious rioting followed the attack today on the office of the Kokumin Shimbun, the government organ.

A mob attacked and burned the official residence of the minister of home affairs, which stood between the Nobles club and the Imperial hotel and faced Hibaya park, which was the storm center throughout the day. Threatening demonstrations occurred in the neighborhood of the official homes of Premier Katsura and Baron Komura, foreign minister, who is now in the United States, but the police succeeded in preventing injury to the occupants or damage to the houses.

The situation tonight is threatening.

Turbulent crowds fill the streets and it is feared much damage to property is possible under cover of the darkness. All the police reserves are performing urgent duty and heavily guarding danger spots. The streets in the neighborhood of the Kokumin Shimbun are closed and 200 police form a cordon around the office.

The destruction of the home minister's

AMERICANS IN PERIL IN TOKYO

E. H. Harriman and Party Caught and Stoned by Angry Mob in Japanese Capital.

SOLDIERS GET IN ACTION

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, Sept. 6.—(Delayed in Transmission.)—E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific railroad, and the Marquis Ito of the privy council, were threatened by a mob today. Neither of them was injured.

The party was returning from a dinner given by Baron Sone, minister of finance. Dr. W. G. Lyle and J. C. McKnight were caught in a crowd on their way to the dinner and were stoned, Dr. Lyle being struck by a missile and slightly hurt.

After the dinner was over a detachment of soldiers escorted the party to the legation. A crowd stopped R. P. Schwerin, vice president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and assaulted his runners, but they did not touch Mr. Schwerin.

Crowds menacing a neighboring police kiosk filled the space in front of the American legation and hooted and jeered the soldiers escorting the Harriman party, who, with fixed bayonets, charged the crowd, cleared the street and guarded the legation throughout the night.

The dinner planned for tonight in honor of the Harriman party did not take place owing to the disturbed conditions in the city.

Sells Watered Milk Then Hangs Himself.

READING, Sept. 7.—Cyrus Becer, a farmer aged 45 years, hanged himself in Bern, this county, today. For having sold milk which it is alleged was watered to a dealer who had been prosecuted for violating the pure food laws, Becker was to have been a witness in the case today. An hour before the hearing his lifeless body was found in his barn.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON IS CONCERNED AT OUTBREAK

Affront to Americans in Japan Believed to Foreshadow Unpleasant Developments—Apologies May Be Promptly Tendered by Mikado.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Unofficial advices from Japan have caused the greatest anxiety at the state department. At least they are officially termed "unofficial advices," but they relate to the disturbances in that country which have followed the publication of the treaty of Portsmouth and to the attitude which the Japanese people have in consequence assumed toward American tourists and others.

Apparently the common people of Japan hold the United States responsible for the terms of the treaty and for their own interpretation of that contract, which seems to be that Russia has won all the substantial fruits of a long and costly war and that Japan has finally submitted to a dishonorable peace.

The state department is vitally concerned for the safety of the thousands of Americans who are now in that country, either as tourists or as residents, representatives of mercantile interests. Then there are likewise the missionaries.

The particular significance of the unpleasant episode today when they were stoned while in the company of Marquis Ito is the fact that they were the personal guests of Minister Griscom and his wife, and for that reason if for no other they have been immune from material expressions of sentiment by the Tokyo rabble. An elaborate program of entertainment by prominent officials of the Japanese government had been arranged for them, but in view of the day's events it is likely to be called off.

A still more important consideration to the department is that Secretary Taft and his party and later on Miss Alice Roosevelt, will have to touch at Japanese ports on their return to their country from their trip to the Philippines and China. When en route to Manila they were entertained in the most cordial manner in Japan, but unless the sentiment in that country changes most signally in the next two weeks, it seems possible that they, too, will be open to indignities, and that would be liable to open an international difference. It would not be surprising here if Japan were cut out of the return itinerary of both branches of the party.

It is expected at the state department that apologies will be made by the government of Japan for the stone throwing at Mr. Harriman.

BERLIN HAS REAL SCARE

Six Deaths from Dread Cholera Cause City Qualms of Terror.

FIFTEEN NEW CASES

The Authorities Undertaking a House-to-House Combat With the Disease.

HAMBURG IS ENCOURAGED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—An official bulletin just issued announces that 15 new cases of cholera and six deaths were reported during the 24 hours ending at noon today, making a total of 100 cases and 37 deaths.

Numerous cholera inspection stations have been established in and near the infected territory.

Today Berlin was placarded with scarlet posters exhorting householders to see that their garbage is promptly removed and their premises kept clean, as cholera exists in West Prussia and communication with the affected districts cannot be cut off.

The war office, instead of calling out recruits from East and West Prussia early in October, will delay the order until November.

A house-to-house visitation is being made in the autumn maneuvers country near Coblentz. Medical officers are instructing the families among whom about 80,000 troops will be quartered next week in precautions concerning the preparation of the food and the boiling of drinking water. The soldiers will be forbidden to bathe in the streams.

HAMBURG, Sept. 7.—A rumor was circulated on the boerse today to the effect that a new case of cholera had been discovered here, but the report was not confirmed.

The authorities have promised the officials of the American consulate to promptly inform them of any further cases of cholera.

The city is perfectly tranquil and the hotels are full of Americans.

The steamship people say that the precautions taken should remove any apprehension abroad.

The Graf Waldersee will embark 1,000 emigrants tomorrow and sails for New York Saturday.

BROMBERG, PRUSSIA, Sept. 7.—One child on a barge in the River Netze died of cholera today and another child is affected. The suspected cases include a man living near Schoenlanke and two children and two men in Gussen.

MARIENBURG, WEST PRUSSIA, Sept. 7.—One woman and five men have died of cholera here. In neighboring villages several suspected cases are under observation, three of which have been already officially declared to be cholera.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Dutch steamer Maasstadt, from Hamburg, was quarantined in the Tyne today, owing to the suspicious sickness of a fireman. After a thorough medical examination the Maasstadt was released during the afternoon, but the fireman was detained for observation.

POSEN, BRUSSELS, Sept. 7.—A case of cholera has been discovered at Birnbaum.

CLUB WOMEN UP IN ARMS

Plan to Unite for Defense Against Attacks of Policemen.

FIRST ACTION TODAY

Interdenominational Missionary Society Will Take Up the Matter at Once.

WILMODAUSIS IS AROUSED

The entire womanhood of Allegheny county has been aroused to the point of action for her own defense. Stung by outraged sisterhood, she is now anxious to secure redress. The first move in this direction to take place this morning at a meeting of the executive committee of the Women's Interdenominational Missionary society of Allegheny county, representing all the women of all the evangelical religious denominations within the county.

The question of adequate protection for the women of the city and the county will be brought before the committee by the president, Mrs. H. C. Wylie of Wilkinsburg. The meeting is called for the purpose of arranging for the annual meeting of the society, which will be held next Tuesday afternoon and evening, September 12, in the East End Cumberland Presbyterian church, Shady avenue.

Protection of Womanhood Demanded.

Though this movement is the result of revelations of alleged unjustifiable conduct on the part of the official protectors of the citizens of the city, any specific case will be lost sight of in the general scope of the action looked for, and the protection of womanhood demanded.

Nor will this action be confined to the church women, for an effort is being made to secure concerted action by the clubwomen of Pittsburgh. Probably the first club to take the matter up will be the Wilmodausis club. Mrs. John H. Armstrong, the president of the Wilmodausis club, said yesterday:

"The matter is of such importance that on Saturday I will lay it before the committee of arrangements planning for our annual presidents' day, next Tuesday. Should the committee think it wise we will bring the subject up on that day. It will be brought up in some form at

POLICE SEIZE ARSENAL COOK

Arrest of Soldier Threatens a Serious Clash Between Two Authorities for Prisoner.

WAS HE ON ARMY PROPERTY?

United States soldiers, armed with rifles loaded with ball cartridges, with bayonets fixed and under the command of their officers, may today make an attack upon the Forty-third street police station. Private George Kessler, the company cook at the arsenal, is locked up in a cell and his release will be demanded.

The army regulations, as approved by congress, provide that if any civilian or soldier confined on army property is forcibly taken away it "shall" become the duty of the commanding officer to take as many men and weapons as necessary to recover him.

According to the testimony of soldiers who were present, Kessler was standing in the arsenal gateway, perfectly sober and orderly, last night, when Policeman John McDevitt walked up to him, and, placing a pair of "twisters" around one of Kessler's wrists, the policeman declared, "I want you," and walked off with him. He was charged with disorderly conduct at the station house.

Kessler is "sick in quarters," being under the treatment of the post surgeon, Dr. Fred S. Macey. He recently cut his right hand severely and has not been discharged as cured. Being recorded as "sick in quarters," he must stay within the arsenal grounds, and according to the soldiers at the gate, had not left the gateway.

Immediately after the arrest of Kessler the soldier guarding the gate sent word to Lieut. Kent Browning, the commanding officer, telling him of the occurrence. So aroused had the soldiers become over what they consider enmity because of the Dowd and Ryan troubles, that they begged Lieut. Browning for "orders."

"All the men are waiting for is orders," explained the reporting soldier, implying that the soldiers desired the opportunity to go to the police station and demand the return of Kessler.

Lieut. Browning, who was sick in bed when he heard the news of the arrest declared himself as being desirous to avoid any further friction with the police or give them any opportunity for feeling ill-disposed toward the soldiers. He therefore ordered that no action be taken until he investigates this morning.

It was among this class of travelers that the outbreak of cholera started in Hamburg. One thousand of them who have been quarantined for six days will sail on the Graf Waldersee for New York tomorrow.

ANOTHER SKYSCRAPER FOR THE DOWNTOWN DISTRICT

Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company to Raze Smith Building and Erect One of 20 or 24 Stories on Site.

Another modern skyscraper, one of the largest and most pretentious which has yet been erected in Pittsburgh, is now being planned. It will be built by the Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company, according to the best authenticated reports, and in order to bring about its construction the six-story Smith building at Liberty avenue and Sixth street will have to be razed. The Smith building was purchased by the Pittsburgh Life & Trust Company several months ago, the company paying for it $1,117,000. The new building, according to The Gazette's informant, will be at least 20 stories in height, possibly 24, with basement, and will be built at a cost of between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000.

When the big local life insurance company came into possession of the Smith building it was publicly announced that other stories would be added in order to furnish quarters for the many who desired offices in the building. This determination on the part of the company officials was adhered to until it became evident that, in view of the many demands for quarters, such action could only be temporary. The officials realized that by the mere adding of more stories they would not be able to accommodate the many renters who have made applications for quarters, and in consequence came the determination to erect the new skyscraper.

The razing of the present Smith building to make way for the erection of the new Pittsburgh Life & Trust skyscraper will in itself be a gigantic task. The building fronts 98 feet on Liberty street and 112 feet on Sixth street. It is of steel construction and has always been regarded as one of the most substantial of the smaller office buildings in the city.

The new building will not be started for at least three years, owing to the fact that some of the leases will not expire until that time. This, however, will interfere but little with the work of progression, as it takes nearly two years to get some of the material necessary for such a building.

The Pittsburgh Life & Trust, in addition to its desire to erect an office building which will furnish quarters for an army of renters, is also anxious to have a modern home of its own. Its business is growing and the present quarters in the Keystone building are inadequate. The company purposes to move from the latter building into its own building soon after the first of the year. There it will remain until the work of demolishing the Smith block commences, when it will seek temporary quarters until its new home has been finished.

EMPEROR WILL RATIFY PEACE PACT PROMPTLY

Komura Not at All Apprehensive as to Fate of Treaty Negotiated at Portsmouth.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Baron Komura, chief of the Japanese peace envoys, who is in this city today, said he did not consider the rioting in Tokyo more than a local disturbance. When he was shown the press dispatches today in his apartments at the Waldorf-Astoria telling of the burning of the official residence of the minister of home affairs and of the threatening demonstration which occurred before his own official residence, he said:

"In the absence of fuller details I am not in a position to form any definite opinion as to the occurrences in Tokyo, but I believe it was merely a local disturbance growing out of a collision between the police and the people."

Baron Komura said this afternoon that he will see Secretary Root Friday or Saturday to pay his respects and that their meeting will have no other object. The baron denied positively that present disturbances in Tokyo might influence the Japanese emperor to withhold ratification of the peace treaty. He said the treaty will be ratified when the emperor receives an official copy of it.

BAKU CITIZENS FLEE FROM STRICKEN CITY

Situation at Baku Could Hardly Be Worse and Town Is Under Martial Law.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BAKU, CAUCASUS, Sept. 7.—6 p. m.—The situation here remains always no signs of amelioration. It could hardly be worse. The terror-stricken inhabitants are fleeing from the city, knowing that the garrison is utterly inadequate to protect them, and, although the worst scenes of fire and massacre have not yet occurred in Baku itself, none dare think how far the excesses may proceed.

The entire oil and commercial quarters of Balakhan, Sabunto and Nowani have been wiped out by fire and the inhabitants remaining behind were massacred and thrown into the flames.

The consulates, banks and administration buildings in Baku are guarded by troops. All of the English residents and almost all other inhabitants of the better class have boarded ships and gone to sea to escape from danger. Martial law has been proclaimed in the city. No body is allowed on the streets after 9 o'clock at night, and inhabitants of houses are held strictly responsible for shots fired from them.

AFTER MR. ROCKEFELLER.

Colorado Man Wants Him to Invest Twenty Millions in Irrigation.

DENVER, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—S. J. Davis of Labota, Huerfano county, said this morning that he was going to New York City to persuade John D. Rockefeller to give up $20,000,000 to develop a gigantic scheme of agriculture.

"Rockefeller will become famous in the history of the country as the greatest philanthropist of his age," said Mr. Davis. "If he will spend $20,000,000 in the construction of reservoirs in the Rocky mountains for the purpose of conserving the present terrible water waste.

"I believe that he will do it. He can save the waters of the thousand streams and apply it to desert lands."

TWO ARE KILLED; THIRTY INJURED

Regular and Special Trains Collide—Tragic Wreck Near New Castle.

FIREMAN MAKES STATEMENT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 7.—Recklessness was responsible for the Western New York & Philadelphia wreck seven miles north of this city this morning according to the statement of Samuel Cox, fireman of the wrecked excursion train to Coroner J. R. Cox. Fireman Cox says he understood the orders to be for the excursion train to stop at Grahams siding to allow southbound regular passenger train No. 234 from Oil City to pass. There was an interval of three minutes before it was due at Wilmington Junction, two miles north of Grahams, and Engineer Popham pulled out thinking he could pass the regular train at that point.

His failure to reach Wilmington Junction cost the lives of the engineer and fireman of No. 234 and may cause his own death. It also caused the fatal injury of one of his passengers and nearly 50 others.

The list of dead and injured as officially issued this afternoon by the Pennsylvania officials follows:

THE DEAD:

L. C. MASKRAY, New Castle, engineer of No. 234 southbound passenger train; mangled under engine.

FIREMAN CANNON, Stoneboro, of No. 224, instantly killed.

JOHN POPHAM, engineer, Mahoningtown; crushed about chest and stomach; head cut and terribly bruised.

THE INJURED:

J. MILT M'MILLEN, New Castle, back wrenched.

C. M. UBER, baggagemaster of No. 234, Stoneboro, head cut.

C. M. PATTON, New Castle, badly bruised.

SLIGHTLY HURT:

RALPH FISHER, New Castle.

HERMAN AZEN, ELLWOOD.

IRWIN TAYLOR, Princeton.

FRED F. WALLACE, New Castle.

IMBRIE WRIGHT, Ellwood.

F. A. M'GEEHAN, Eastbrook.

HENRY BLACK, Eastbrook.

Of the injured 15 are in the city hospital. Coroner Cox will hold an inquest here tomorrow night to investigate the deaths of Engineer Maskray and Fireman Cannon. Supt. W. M. Thornton of the Pennsylvania railroad this afternoon also began an official investigation. The railroad men are loath to place the blame upon Engineer Popham before the most searching investigation, as he is known as one of the most experienced and competent engineers on the division. The officials suspect that his watch stopped thus throwing him off his schedule.

The southbound passenger train passed Wilmington Junction at nearly 60 miles an hour, with orders for a clear track, and crashed into the slower-moving northbound excursion train a mile below that point. The impact was terrific, and the engines were reduced to scrap iron while the engineer and fireman of No. 234 were buried underneath the debris. The wrecked engines were thrown at right angles to the tracks and the baggage coach of the excursion train was thrown upon the top of all, while nearly half of the excursion smoker was crushed under the tender.

Nearly all the injured were excursionists bound for Stoneboro to spend the day at the fair. The train consisted of 10 coaches and carried fully 300 people. The tracks are yet blocked and the excursionists were brought back to this city with the dead and injured. A relief train was made up and carried all the doctors that could be summoned on short notice. Engineer John Popham is in too critical a condition to make any statement, and there are grave fears that he will not recover.

Three years ago, two miles south of the scene of today's accident, Engineer Edward Murphy of this city lost his life in a head-on crash. Mrs. Maskray, wife of the dead engineer, is visiting friends at Meadville, and late this afternoon had not learned of her husband's death. No. 234 was not his regular run. He was taking the place of Engineer Barney Barnhart who is on his vacation.

Mrs. Lida Hunter, wife of William H. Hunter, of 67 North Venango street, this city, not knowing she was injured, continued to Stoneboro after the wreck and became delirious and unconscious there. She was brought home tonight, and is severely internally injured. She may not live.

Engineer Popham is recovering rapidly and will live. Harry Shallerman, (also in list of fatally injured) will die before morning, according to hospital physicians. Notice was given out at the Pennsylvania offices tonight that a further list of probably 10 more injured wreck victims will be given out tomorrow.

Hull Given Up by Physicians.

John Earl Hull, son-in-law of Police Supt. "Buck" Wallace, is expected to die at any moment at the Homeopathic hospital from injuries received in a brawl in Grant street early Tuesday morning. The physicians say he cannot survive the fracture of his skull. Hull, with others, attempted to take some fruit from Joseph Perilli's stand and the latter knocked him down.

THE INJURED:

ROBERT PATTON, aged 20, of 7041 Hermitage street, back injured; taken to the West Penn hospital.

HARRY COURTNEY, aged 32, of 24 Brushton avenue, injured internally; taken to the West Penn hospital.

The employes of the Westinghouse Company were waiting for a train to take them to the works. There was a heavy fog and two trains entered the station at the same time and before they could get off the tracks. There was a large crowd of workmen standing on the tracks and the killed and injured men might have escaped had they not been hampered by the presence of so many others. Gardner was struck by the engine and thrown under the wheels and was killed instantly. The others were crushed. Physicians dressed the wounds of the injured temporarily and then they were hurried to the West Penn hospital. Gundy and McKee died on the way there.

More than 100 employes of the Westinghouse Company witnessed the accident. J. K. White of 7344 Formosa place, Homewood, a fellow worker of Gardner's, was with him at the time of the accident. He said when the trains pulled into the station that the men standing between the tracks had no chance to get back to the platform. White threw himself down between the tracks and when he looked he saw Gardner lying under the wheels.

Death Stops Celebration.

William Kay Gundy was born in this city November 25, 1868, at Thirtieth street and Penn avenue. He was a son of Thomas G. Gundy, conductor of the Duquesne express of the Allegheny Valley railroad, and Mrs. Mary Gundy of Oakmont. Shortly after Mr. Gundy's birth the family removed to Oakmont, where they have since resided. Mr. Gundy was educated in the schools of that town and entered the shops of the Allegheny Valley railroad at Verona, where he learned the trade of machinist. Six years ago he entered the works of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company at East Pittsburgh and a year later was made foreman, which position he occupied at the time of his death. Mr. Gundy was married nine years ago to Miss Mary Bolde and was making preparations for a celebration of his ninth anniversary on Sunday.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Ruth, aged 3, his parents, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Ernest Stone of Swissvale; John L., Harry S. and Simon M. Gundy, all of Oakmont. He was a member of the Hamilton Avenue United Presbyterian church and of the Iron City Tent Order of Maccabees. Funeral services will be held from his late residence, 611 North Dallas avenue, Monday at 2 p. m., and the interment will be private at Uniondale cemetery.

McKee Came from Ireland.

William McKee was born in County Derry, Ireland, 23 years ago. He came to this country three years ago, and about a year ago came to this city to make his home with his sister, Mrs. John Milligan, and worked as a mechanic in the Westinghouse shops at East Pittsburgh. Besides his father, he leaves the following brothers and sisters: George, Thomas, Margaret J., Susan, Isabella, Irene McKee, and Mrs. John Milligan of this city, and Mary A., Essie, Levina and Alfred G. McKee of Ireland. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. Funeral services will be held from the residence of his brother-in-law, John Milligan, 7154 Kedron street, Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., and the interment will be private in the Homewood cemetery.

William M. Gardner was born in Westmoreland county 44 years ago, and was a son of W. C. and Sarah Gardner. He had been a resident of this city for over 20 years, and previous to his accepting a position with the railroad company had been a house carpenter. Mr. Gardner never married and lived with his parents at 7632 Kelly street. Besides his parents he leaves the following brothers and sisters: Clark, Abraham and John Gardner, Mrs. Elizabeth Saxman, Mrs. D. Boyd, Mrs. John Harrison and Miss Sally Gardner, at home. Funeral services will be held from his late residence tonight at 8 o'clock, and the interment will be at Pleasant Unity, Westmoreland county.

OHIO SOLDIERS WILL WEAR GREEN GOODS

National Government Will Furnish Uniforms and a Battery to Ohio Guard.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Ohio National Guards are to have 6,300 new suits of the latest pattern of olive green uniforms and a new field battery of four guns. The battery will be one equipped with the latest improvements. It is now in the shops under construction, and it is said will be a revelation to the National Guard men when it is put into commission.

The arrangement by which these new uniforms and battery is to be issued was completed by Assistant Quartermaster General E. T. Miller who came to Washington this afternoon to see Quartermaster General Humphries of the United States army. The uniforms will be issued to the guard this fall by the quartermaster general of the Ohio National Guard and the battery will be sent to Ohio as soon as it is completed.

It is understood here that the battery to which the new guns are assigned is Battery A of Cleveland O. This however is a matter for the officers of the state guard to decide. The request for new uniforms for the Ohio guard has been refused two times by the war department and after considerable pressure has been brought to bear upon the quartermaster and the needs of the guard has been recognized.

LEISHMAN STOPS EXECUTION OF AMERICAN CITIZEN BY TURKS

MINISTER LEISHMAN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Minister Leishman at Constantinople has been instructed by the state department to interpose very vigorously in the case of a naturalized citizen of the United States who has been condemned to death. According to the story received at the department through a cablegram from Mr. Leishman, one Ghirkis Vartanian, an Armenian, who came to this country and was naturalized eight years ago, shot and killed August 26 last another Armenian named Undjian, in Stamboul. Thereupon he was tried and convicted and sentenced to death in the Turkish courts without the knowledge of the United States legation.

Upon this representation the state department immediately cabled Mr. Leishman to make a protest upon the violation of the treaty and to demand that the sentence be postponed until this country shall have had time to make the proper presentation.

TOKYO UNDER MARTIAL LAW

residence was intensely dramatic. Throughout the day a series of demonstrations occurred in the neighborhood of the building and late in the afternoon the mob attacked the house, swept the police away and battered down the gates. The police and servants resisted stoutly but the mob surged forward and entered the house. One of the mob leaders, carrying an armful of burning straw, gained the rear of the structure and succeeded in setting it on fire. The police reserves charged the crowds, using their swords freely but the mob rallied from several quarters and stoned the firemen when they arrived. The members of the minister's household were rescued and escorted to the Imperial hotel.

When darkness came the flames from the burning building illuminated a menacing scene, the mob hooting and throwing stones at the police and firemen and the police repeatedly clearing the streets. Accurate figures of the casualties are not obtainable. It is known, however, that one man was killed; that 14 were mortally wounded by sword thrusts, and that many persons were bruised with stones and injured in the crushes.

Another demonstration is planned for September 8, and it is believed that the strongest measures will be necessary to prevent serious rioting and bloodshed.

Warning to the Mikado.

A member of the mob which burned the home minister's residence said to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"We burned the house for the purpose of attracting the attention of the emperor. We want him to refuse to ratify the treaty. We believe that those surrounding him prevent him from correctly understanding the popular attitude toward the disgraceful, humiliating peace."

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—The destruction of small police sub-stations continued until midnight. It is impossible to ascertain the exact number destroyed, but it is estimated that 15 were wrecked. Two of the larger police stations were also destroyed. The mobs generally prevented damage to adjoining private property by dragging the police kiosks into the middle of the streets before applying the torch.

Shortly after midnight another attempt was made against the Kokumin Shimbun offices, but the police dispersed the attackers, killing one of the assailants. The fact that the man was cut in the back angered the crowd, which demanded the arrest of the policeman.

Detachments of national troops mobilized on account of the war were called out during the night. The crowds received the soldiers good-naturedly and cheered them. The principal duty of the troops was the protection of the police.

Hundreds Reported Injured.

The anger of the crowds was chiefly on account of the closing of Hibiya park and the denial of the right to publicly meet in the park, which is under charge of the municipality. After the park was closed yesterday the mayor and council met immediately and protested to the government and insisted that the park be reopened. It is now claimed that all the turbulence resulted from the indiscreet closing of the park. Students and young street rowdies seemed to be the largest participants in the disorder of the night. The firemen succeeded in saving the main structure of the home minister's residence. Only the outbuildings were destroyed.

It is impossible to secure accurate figures of the casualties. The Jiji estimates at two dead and 500 wounded in all, including those seriously and slightly injured, among whom are 200 policemen. The wounds are mostly slight sword thrusts and bruises made by stones.

An irritating feature of the situation results from the continued failure of the government to inform the public of the exact results of the Portsmouth conference. Not a single feature of the negotiations has been communicated officially to the people.

The result has been much popular resentment, the people arguing that they fought and paid for the war and are entitled to know the results.

About 200 arrests have been made since noon yesterday. The police captured 50 of those who were engaged in the attack on the home minister's residence. They were detained as prisoners within the compound until this morning, owing to fear that the populace would attempt to rescue them.

M. SATO MAKES REPLY WORTHY OF SAMURAI

Japan Has Lost Too Many on Battle's Field to Fear Sacrifice in Peace's Cause.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Baron Komura and the other Japanese envoys admitted today, when shown the dispatches announcing the riots in Tokyo, that the situation faced by the government is now a serious one. As usual, M. Sato acted as spokesman for the party. Before the cabled account of the burning of the house of the minister of home affairs was received, M. Sato, with great urbanity, was explaining that the demonstrations were not to be seriously regarded.

"While the people may not exactly rejoice over the treaty," he said, "the majority of them are resigned. They realize that the country is in urgent need of peace."

At this point a cablegram, announcing the latest phases of the uprising, was shown the diplomat. His face changed as he read it, the account of the burning of the home minister's house.

"They aimed at the wrong man," he said, alluding to the position held by Baron Komura as minister of foreign affairs.

"If this is true," he added, "the state of affairs is really serious."

"Are you and Baron Komura afraid to go back to Tokyo?" he was asked.

His reply was worthy of the Samurai. "We have lost 80,000 men on the field of battle," he replied, seriously. "A few lives laid down in the cause of peace would not be much. No, we are not afraid."

an early day, if we do not take action on Tuesday."

A Powerful Organization.

The Winedausis club has a membership of almost 1,450 women, being exceeded in size only by the Twentieth Century club. Its members are either the wives, mothers, daughters or sisters of the Masons, the name of the club being a compound of those four words. It is a powerful club in forming public opinion, for back of it in whatever action it has taken in the past has stood the strong Masonic order, and its influence will hardly fail in the present occasion.

"I have no doubt there is a deal of blackmailing going on," said one clubwoman yesterday, who wished her name withheld.

"It should be made an issue of the coming municipal campaign," said another. "If the women could vote I think there would be some surprises in store for the politicians and their henchmen," said a third.

Advocates Concerted Action.

Mrs. Alfred E. Clarke, who has just returned from Japan, is the former president of Pittsburgh Sorosis and a member of the Travelers' club, and a prominent club woman, advocates concerted action of the women's clubs. She said last evening:

"If some club would take the initiative and present a resolution to all the other clubs demanding the protection of womanhood from such outrages as the papers are telling of, it would be a step toward a better condition of affairs. Only by concerted action, however, can this be secured. I will personally present the matter to my clubs, and a great deal of good might be accomplished if at the first meeting of each club this fall some decisive action be taken."

"Only through concerted action of the local clubs can the matter be brought to the attention of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women," said Mrs. W. D. Grimes of the New Era club last night.

All Clubs Should Unite.

"The action of one club would hardly be recognized by the state organization, but if the clubs unite in a resolution or petition to the state body, that body might then act on it. It has been the policy of the state federation to keep out of questions involving individual rights and confine itself to general principles, but the importance of the question of an adequate protection of the women of the commonwealth is a matter coming within the scope of even the state federation."

Policeman James Kilgallon, who is charged by Mrs. M. B. Dick of 234 Frankstown avenue, with attempting to assault her two weeks ago on the Ellsworth avenue bridge, near Spahr street, says he does not patrol the beat where the assault is alleged to have occurred. Mrs. Dick says when Kilgallon assaulted her he informed her he was off his beat, which ended at the foot of the bridge.

The End of His Beat.

"This is the end of my beat," is what Kilgallon is alleged to have said, as he followed Mrs. Dick across the bridge.

The police are taking exceptions to the character of the persons Mrs. Dick was automobiling with. Mrs. Dick says she has known these people for several years and often visits them.

Mrs. Dick says she never saw the policeman before the assault. After the affair she identified Kilgallon at the Frankstown avenue station house. Mrs. Dick says she took a woman friend with her and Kilgallon was standing in front of the station house when they entered. She said:

"My friend informed me yesterday that she remembered Kilgallon said 'Good evening,' as we entered the station house. I did not hear him speak or see him nod to us, but my friend is certain of it. At the hearing Kilgallon denied he ever saw me before.

"I am just a poor woman. My parents were born in Scotland and came to this country when I was a child. I had nine brothers and sisters. All are dead but one sister. I was married three years ago and my husband is dead about 18 months. He was a civil engineer, and left me a small amount of insurance.

"Because I was with an automobiling party and was out late Supt. Wallace thinks that I ought not to have made a complaint. If I had been out for medicine when I met Kilgallon I am sure that he would have assaulted me just the same."

NO TEST WITH DUMMIES.

Live Subjects in the Fender Trial at Tarentum—Lev Device Proves Successful.

A street car fender test at Tarentum disproves Director Moore's assertion that there is not a fender that will fend. A test of the Lev fender, which will be tried today at the test in Euclid avenue, East End, was made with complete success. Benjamin Lev, the inventor of the fender, stepped in front of a car going at the rate of 18 miles an hour and was picked up unhurt, smoking a cigar.

Supt. Hargett of the traction company permitted the fender to pick him up, also Chief Electrician Mentzel of the company. A double pick-up then occurred, Lev and Mentzel both being lifted by the steel fender, neither man receiving as much as a bruise or scratch. Inventor Lev wants to make the same test with his fender today, but Supt. Murphy of the Pittsburgh Railways Company refuses to allow him to stand in front of a car.

TOSSES BABY FROM WINDOW.

Mother, Excited by Flames, Drops Little One Into Policeman's Arms.

At 2:30 this morning fire broke out in the rear of a brick house at 59 Pride street, owned and occupied by J. Grodjensky. In the rear is a frame house occupied by Joseph Slater, with his wife and five children, the youngest a baby aged six months.

During the progress of the fire Mrs. Slater became excited and dropped the baby out of the second-story window. Policeman Charles Hays ran forward and caught the little one as it fell. It escaped unhurt. He then turned his attention to getting the rest of the family out. This was accomplished without difficulty. The fire loss was about $400.

COUNCIL WANTS MAYOR'S REASONS

Asks Why So Many Heads Are Lopped Off in Philadelphia's Government.

REPUBLICANS CONTROL BODY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.

Ten votes in both branches of councils today disclosed the fact that the Republican organization's lines not only hold, but that they have gained strength since the last line-up against Mayor Weaver.

In the face of threatened vetoes on pending measures the organization shows the two-thirds majority necessary to pass the bills finally, notwithstanding the disapproval of the mayor.

Senator P. Bruce, Israel W. Durham and Senator James P. McNichol, the organization leaders, are jubilant tonight. They point to the fact that Mayor Weaver, with all the municipal patronage at his disposal, is unable to make any headway in the legislative branch of the government. They believe that his power has passed the flood and is now at ebb tide. It is real war now. By a vote of 29 to 10 select councils adopted a resolution calling upon the mayor to furnish a list of city employes whose resignations have been asked, or who have been removed from office since January 1, 1905, giving the reasons for the request for said resignation or removal, and the names of those persons appointed to fill the vacancies, also the date of their confirmation by select councils.

Want Full Information.

The resolution further provides that the directors of the different departments shall inform councils as to the reasons prompting a request for the resignation or removal of said employes, and the date of the confirmation of their successors. The city controller is also asked the date of such confirmations and he is further "directed not to countersign any warrant for the payment of wages to any person appointed in any capacity in any of the departments of the city of Philadelphia until he shall first receive a certification of the confirmation of such appointment from the clerk of select councils."

As none of these employes have been confirmed the significance of the resolution is apparent. One organization selectman was absent, and Ryan, Democrat, voted with the mayor's followers. Had his vote been needed he might not have done so. Mayor Weaver knew in advance of the resolution and he messaged to councils a partial list of the employes dismissed or forced to resign. His reasons in the main for their removal were "for the good of the service," though in some instances "neglect of duty," and "intoxication" were causes assigned. The mayor's report did not include the names of any of the police and firemen, hundreds of whom have been fired.

But it was in common branch that the Weaver forces met their most important defeat. By a vote of 31 to 10 the $75,000 appropriating $75,000 for deepening the Monongahela river was passed. Before the vote was taken the organization leaders only claimed 26 votes and were surprised at the result. Ten members were absent, six being favorable to the measure and four doubtful. Whether or not this is correct, there is certain to be a two-thirds majority, with which to override the mayor's veto.

Tribute to Penrose.

The action on the channel appropriation is considered a deserved tribute to Senator Penrose. Although meeting fierce opposition in the river and harbor committee, he secured a cash appropriation of $500,000 for the channel and an additional $1,000,000 contingent on the state of Pennsylvania contributing $500,000. At the last session of the legislature Penrose and the other Republican leaders secured an appropriation of $25,000 contingent upon an appropriation of an equal amount by the city of Philadelphia. Senator Penrose now has overcome all the harrowing "contingencies." Locally he has had the support of the commercial and maritime interests, but has been opposed by Mayor Weaver, who is opposed to all loans, temporary or permanent. The mayor said his first plea for delay was based upon his desire that city engineers make a survey of the channel. When informed that this was the duty of the federal government and that it had already been performed, he wanted the measure embodied in the December appropriation budget, available in January. The Republican leaders assert that he was trying to make a political play and refused to accept his terms.

Chairman Work today announced that select councils investigating committee would organize tomorrow and that no time would be lost in getting the probe at work. The cases of the employes forced to resign and those removed, will be given early attention. The mayor's answer "for the good of the service," it is said, will not be considered justification for his wholesale use of the executive axe. Other causes, not political, they say, must be given.

CHINA MAKES AMENDS.

Gunboat Salutes American Flag in Reparation for Recent Insult Offered Amoy Consulate.

AMOY, CHINA, Sept. 8, via San Francisco, Sept. 7.—The Chinese gunboat Heinghang appeared before the American consulate on the water front in Amoy today with the American flag at its masthead and fired a salute of 21 guns as amends for an act of an insulting nature committed in connection with the flagpole of the consulate about two weeks ago.

The whole affair grew out of the American boycott agitation which has been in progress in Amoy for the last month or so. There are a large number of merchants in Amoy who have business connections in Manila; more, perhaps than in any other port of China. Many of the merchants have had difficulties in getting into the Philippines since the American occupation and as a result the feeling against Americans in Amoy is bitter.

MAJOR TAGGART ACCUSES SMYSER

Says He Tries to Use His Position as Congressman to Win the Divorce Case.

DETECTIVE GETS A BAD NAME

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 7.—During today's session of the Taggart divorce trial Capt. Taggart and Attorney Smyser, counsel for Mrs. Taggart, created merriment by a performance in which the lawyer played the role of Mrs. Taggart while the captain showed how he had torn his wife's dress on the night of June 30, 1903, the night he is charged with having treated her brutally. Later there was a sharp clash between Taggart and Smyser in which Taggart accused the other of having used his office of congressman to win in the divorce suit.

Just before the court adjourned this afternoon Judge Eason decided that the arguments must begin Friday afternoon. Attorneys for both sides said they were satisfied, as all the evidence will have been submitted by noon. It is expected that a time limit will be fixed in the arguments.

Mrs. Taggart never struck you, did she? was asked of Capt. Taggart.

No, she simply tried to get away. I told her we should have to have an understanding before she went up, and took her by the arm and we walked down to the hall.

Smyser then directed Taggart to take hold of his arm and show how Mrs. Taggart's sleeves had been torn that night. Taggart appeared embarrassed at first, but after a moment's hesitation he smiled and went through the part.

In speaking of the letter to the war department written by Mrs. Taggart through her attorneys, asking the department to take action in the Taggart case, the witness declared vehemently:

It was the most asinuous and cute letter ever written by a woman, being supposed to have a sinuous. You know Mr. Smyser, that you said you would take advantage of your position as a congressman and your influence with the war department to beat me in this lawsuit.

No, I do not, returned Smyser hotly.

Well, Mrs. Taggart said you did, replied the other.

Chief of Police Fred Kohler of Cleveland took the stand.

What do you know about the detective, Couch, traveling under various aliases? he was asked.

We knew of him traveling under other names, such as Allen, Dixon, Cranston, etc.

The witness was handed some pictures of Couch taken from the rogue's gallery in Cleveland and asked to identify them. Kohler said they were the pictures of Couch. Two of the pictures were of H. J. Couch in citizen's dress and two in a prisoner's garb. On cross-examination Kohler was asked:

Don't you know that for some time past the Couch agency has been trading you and that it has your picture in various compromising positions?

I don't know. They are likely to blackmail anyone.

Are you acquainted with Mr. Couch?

Yes, sir.

Do you ever speak to him?

No, sir.

Why not?

I am not in the habit of talking with crooks unless I have business with them.

McElroy & Boyle File Petition in Bankruptcy and Give Schedule.

Through their attorneys, McElroy & Boyle, stock brokers, with offices at 307 Fourth avenue, at 7:30 o'clock last evening, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court. Attorneys Chapman and Rainbow represent the petitioners. It is said neither member of the firm has held a membership in any stock exchange for about a year.

The petitioners' schedule gives their assets as $61,715.63 and their liabilities as $61,490.25. The schedule also shows that the firm's assets consist of 17,500 shares of United Fireproofing stock, valued at $17,500; 40,000 shares of "Happy Day" mining stock, valued at $40,000, and an open account of $215.38.

VERNER ABSENT FROM MEETING

Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow Humor Controller Larkin and He Goes "Along."

McKEE DECLARES HIMSELF

Murry A. Verner was not invited to the Citizens party conference held in Mayor Hays' office yesterday morning. Some time ago Hays and Director Bigelow entered into an agreement with Controller Larkin to shun Verner politically. Larkin said if this was not done, he could not go "along" with the machine.

The meeting was for the purpose of slating a man for chairman of the county committee. It was attended by Hays, Bigelow, Director Clark, Recorder O'Neil and Senator Woods. They selected their man, but will hold him under cover until Saturday, when the county committee meets. Verner was the last county chairman, but Larkin threatens to again become an Orphan if Verner is reelected. For the present Hays and Bigelow think it wise to humor the controller. He is docile and easy to handle and Verner does not object to the ostracism, if it helps the gang. There is a rumor that "Buck" Wallace has been selected to lead the county fight. "Big John" McKee refuses the job. He says of the Citizens: "Them fellers don't owe me nothin' and I don't owe them nothin,' so the honors of war is even."

Place for Collingwood.

When the Citizens called the payroll into convention a couple of months ago to nominate a ticket, it was decided to leave the nominations for one commissioner, prothonotary and director of the poor open. The chairman of the convention, former Congressman J. W. Brown, was authorized to name a committee on vacancies. Yesterday he selected this committee: Mayor Hays, Director McIlvain, Max Blumenthal, S. J. Snee and County Treasurer Collingwood. With the exception of Collingwood, who succeeds Recorder O'Neil, this is the same committee that conferred with the Democrats to name a fusion ticket. As O'Neil is a candidate, he has been taken off. The appointment of Collingwood is amusing. He wanted the Citizens to put him on their county ticket for commissioner or something "equally as good" and he was turned down by Hays and Bigelow. This committee is expected to meet with the Democrats a few days after the Republican county primaries have been held.

All of the candidates who have entered the Republican primaries are making active canvasses. They are writing letters and covering as much of the county as possible.

Put Up Their Assessments.

So far these candidates have deposited their campaign assessment with County Chairman Ford: James S. Young, judge; C. B. Price, L. K. Campbell and W. W. Murray, county commissioners; W. B. Kirker, prothonotary; George Z. Hosack, county treasurer, and W. H. Guy, poor director.

Judge J. A. Evans suspended sentence on James C. Smith and Charles Crawford yesterday morning. The two men, with Thomas W. Davis, were convicted of stuffing the ballot box of the Fourteenth precinct of the Thirteenth ward during the last spring election. Smith and Crawford were brought into court on processes issued for them on Wednesday upon their failure to appear then and during the heated argument between the attorneys prior to sentence, the court intimated its intention to give the men a light sentence.

Attorney John Marron appeared for the prosecution, arguing for the sentence of the two men and said it ought to be remembered that a ballot box was not a cuspidor or a waste basket, when Attorney Ralph P. Tannehill advanced the argument that neither Smith nor Crawford knew anything about the stuffing of the box and that Davis only was the offender. Attorney Tannehill pleaded for the court to give the men a chance and recited their previous good records, saying only their being associated with a man like Davis made it hard for them to establish their innocence.

The court said there was a serious doubt in his mind as to the guilt of the men, and after a strong argument by Mr. Tannehill that the men be given a chance to remove the stigma which would cling to them as a result of a sentence, and that if they were ever caught in a misdemeanor again, the court could deal lavishly with them, Judge Evans concluded the hearing by saying he did not see how he could do anything but suspend sentence.

The Republicans of Munhall borough held a meeting yesterday and arranged to roll up a large vote in the fall election. A campaign committee consisting of Dr. H. V. Potruff, chairman; Joseph E. Arthurs, George W. Giles, Frank Young, Arthur Morris, Postmaster W. P. Masters, W. C. Martin, Norman A. Whitten, D. S. Kennedy and G. E. Weisner was appointed.

NEW TUNNEL PROJECTED.

Under Name of "Air Line" Fording-Morse Syndicate Makes Another Application.

The Fording-Morse syndicate announces the formation of a new tunnel company in the general plan for a system projected by them. The new company is known as the Air Line Tunnel Company. Its tunnel is to start at Grant street and Webster avenue and end at Melwood avenue, about 500 feet north of center.

The application is made under the act of 1874, and will be brought before the governor October 2.

New Owners for the Armenia.

The friction in the Armenia Insurance Company, which has been creating difficulties for about a year, is likely to be ended shortly by the selling of the control of the company to a new set of owners. New York and Pittsburgh insurance men are said to be negotiating for the purchase. The company's capital will be reduced from $250,000 to $200,000, it is said.

Will Enforce New Law.

The ordinance officers of Braddock and Rankin have given notice that every provision of the new state law regarding the placing of garbage and ashes on the streets will be enforced and all offenders arrested. The new law provides a maximum penalty of $10, and in default of payment a maximum imprisonment of 10 days in the county jail.

Contract for Engine House.

The contract for the construction of the new engine house and police station in the Twenty-second ward, was let yesterday to D. H. Crisman for $55,291. The contract price is $500 in excess of the appropriation, but it was decided to go ahead with the contract and make an additional appropriation next year if necessary.

Hound Trained to Carry Plunder Home

EGG HARBOR CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—The farmers of this section have been losing their chickens by the wholesale the last few weeks. At one farmer's hennery the thief secured over 100 fowls. One of the farmers, George Heuman, awakened last night and rushed out, only to find a large hound killing the last fowl in the flock. He brought his gun into play, but it missed fire.

The dog escaped and Heuman got out his fastest horse and followed the dog to the home of a neighbor, several miles away. The dog was trained to kill the chickens and bring them home. He had thus carried off over 400 chickens. Damage suits have been instituted against the owner of the dog.

TRUST COMPANIES MOST IMPORTANT

Officials of Insurance Companies Own All Stock and Use the Cash.

EQUITABLE OFFICIAL MISSING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society and the Mutual Life Insurance company held the attention today of the legislative life insurance investigation committee in session in this city. Nothing particularly new was developed in regard to the Equitable society other than the statement drawn from one of the officers that the society does not know the present whereabouts of Thomas D. Jordan, the former comptroller. It was also stated that James H. Hyde, former first vice president of the Equitable, later will be called as a witness before the committee.

Own Many Trust Concerns.

The inquiry into the Mutual Life Insurance Company was begun. The testimony drawn from an officer of this company showed that the Mutual controls many trust companies, among them the Morton Trust Company, the Carnegie Trust Company and the United States Mortgage and Trust Company. On deposit with these companies the insurance company keeps hundreds of thousands of dollars against which it does not draw. It was explained that the prosperity of the trust companies meant the prosperity of the insurance company. The insurance deposits draw 2 per cent interest, and the trust companies pay as high as 20 per cent dividends on the par value of the stock, or five per cent on the market value.

Frederick Cromwell, treasurer of the Mutual Life, said the company had bought securities from syndicates; that officers of the company also bought securities from the syndicate and received individual profits by selling these bonds to the company. He did not see that there was any impropriety in the officers going into syndicates when the company had gone in first.

Hyde Made His Will.

Mr. Hughes next read the bill of sale of the Hyde stock in the Equitable to Thomas F. Ryan for $2,500,000. It was shown that legal safeguards were taken to insure the delivery of the stock on June 6, 1906, at the expiration of the trust created by Henry B. Hyde, one thing noted being that James E. Hyde made a will directing that the transfer of the stock be made by his executors if he should die before the expiration of the trust. The agreement between Mr. Ryan and the trustees appointed by him, Grover Cleveland, Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse, also was read.

It was brought out that Mr. Hyde had bound himself to Mr. Ryan to return the $2,500,000 paid for the Equitable stock provided full delivery was not made at the expiration of the trust.

William Alexander, brother of former President Alexander, was questioned as to the whereabouts of Thomas D. Jordan, formerly comptroller of the Equitable. He said he did not know where Mr. Jordan was. The committee desires to know where Mr. Jordan is, because he is one of the men who knows about the unexplained $65,000 loan of the Mercantile Trust Company to the Equitable.

On the subject of former prices of Equitable stock, Mr. Alexander said it had sold at $1,000 a share 15 years ago. Recently Marcellus Hartley Dodge had told him he had purchased four shares at more than $3,000 each. The Hyde stock was sold to Mr. Ryan at approximately $5,000 a share.

WALKERS MILLS LAYS DOWN ARMS

Community Disturbed by Russell's Threats Returns to its Old Time Quietness.

BELIEVE LUNATIC HAS GONE

After a week of excitement and preparation to make an armed resistance should Thomas Russell, the maniac-murderer who escaped from the county home at Woodville early last Friday morning, appear, the town of Walkers Mills has again begun to feel more at ease. Russell is still free, but fear of him carrying out his threat to kill Miss Jennie and Miss Birdie Walker is not so strong as when it became known he was free.

Two members of the county detective force are still guarding the Walker home, about two miles back in the country from Walkers Mills station. They were there all last night, but the keepers of the county home have resumed their duties at the home at Woodville, having given up the search for their escaped prisoner some days ago. The county detectives have searched the mines and country, which is overrun with a dense growth of shrubbery, and have now decided to await developments. Detectives McMillen and Reed last evening stated the vigil will not be given up until they have made sure Russell has left that section or is captured.

While most of the farmers and other residents of Walkers Mills have laid down their shotguns and resumed their usual occupations, there are some who still go about prepared for an emergency should they meet Russell and find him in an ugly humor. The siege because of Russell's supposed roaming is practically at an end.

Walkers Mills Breathing Again.

The excitement in that section of the country has so far died down that yesterday children and women unaccompanied were frequently met along the lonely and most unfrequented country roads several miles distant from the town. Even Miss Jennie Walker, whom Russell has frequently declared he will kill for testifying against him when he was tried for the murder of John Wasmuth, the aged farm hand on the Walker farm, took her horse and buggy and went out alone yesterday afternoon. Miss Walker returned to her home at 6 o'clock last night unharmed. On the surface the Walker home does not show that Russell's threat has caused any excitement there, but no one on the farm makes any attempt to hide the fact that all hands are prepared to give Russell a hot reception if he goes there to make trouble.

Among people living in the country about the Walker farm it is the prevailing impression that Russell threw the scare into the community in order to give him an opportunity to get away safely. The reports that Russell has been seen during the last few days near the Walker home is now scouted, and Detective McMillen says he has run down every report, even going so far as to find the person who had been taken for the escaped lunatic.

Believe Russell Has Left.

Russell was born and reared on a farm within less than a mile of the Walker farm and for 20 years before he had killed Wasmuth in the Walker farm yard with a piece of gas pipe and in sight of Miss Jennie Walker, who was standing on her side porch, he roamed over that section of the country. He had come almost to the level of the ordinary tramp during that period and lived by getting his meals wherever he could and going to farm houses where he was not wanted.

It was through Russell going to the Walker house, where he was told he was not wanted, which led to his murdering Wasmuth. The old man told Russell when he appeared at the house that he was not wanted about by the women. Some months later he returned and with the words of the old man still rankling he waylaid him in the barn yard at dusk and killed him by beating Wasmuth's brains out with a piece of gas pipe.

Russell has the reputation in the community in which he was reared of being an expert train jumper and the popular opinion is that during the height of the excitement over his escape he jumped a passing Panhandle railroad freight train in the vicinity of Walkers Mills and is now safely out of that country.

WORRIES OVER BIG FIGHT.

Congressman Castor Breaks Down Under Strain of Philadelphia Disagreement.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Congressman George A. Castor, who was reported as critically ill, is much improved and out of danger, his physicians say.

Among politicians generally, who learned for the first time today of the condition of the congressman, it is believed that worry over the local political situation caused the physical breakdown which has endangered his life.

YELLOW CRUST ON BABY

Would Crack Open and Scab Causing Terrible Itching.

CURED BY CUTICURA

"Our baby had a yellow crust on his head which I could not keep away. When I thought I had succeeded in getting his head clear, it would start again by the crown of his head, crack and scale, and cause terrible itching. I then got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, washing the scalp with the soap and then applying the Ointment. A few treatments made a complete cure. I have advised a number of mothers to use Cuticura, when I have been asked about the same ailment of their babies. Mrs. John Boyce, Pine Bush, N. Y."

President Castro's order affecting the French cable is another bid for trouble. It is characteristic of the Castro administration in its disregard for the rights of concessionaires and for the purpose to extort revenues for the Castro treasury. The Venezuelan dictator is shrewd enough in his measures to worry foreign interests, but seems incapable of understanding the danger to his country entailed by such practices.

Tarentum had a very successful fender test yesterday. Pittsburgh will have a test this afternoon. It is uncertain whether Director Moore will permit experiments with live subjects, though that is really the only decisive test. The Tarentum exhibition clearly proved the efficacy of fenders under certain conditions and reports from Kansas City and Cleveland, where the same fenders are used, are to the effect that no fatalities have occurred on lines using them. This is good, practical testimony.

Responsibility for the deplorable accident at Homewood has not been placed beyond the contributory negligence of passengers who waited out on the tracks for their train. There was violation of a rule of the Pennsylvania railroad about the passing of trains at local stations, but in the fog this violation may have been involuntary. The obvious lesson to the public is to keep off the railroad tracks. The Gazette has repeatedly sounded this warning and urged the enactment of law to penalize such trespass.

Tokyo has been a distinct disappointment to the world in its reception of the peace treaty. In any large city there is a small riotous element, but the Tokyo demonstration has been more serious than could have been believed possible a week ago. The Japanese during the war showed so many of the virtues of the highly civilized, together with a philosophy and stoicism wholly apart that rioting was not expected among their vices. It is a manifestation not in accord with their recent history nor their ancient traditions.

The obvious negligence of register assessors about the correction of their tests on Tuesday and Wednesday suggests the necessity for purging the rolls. For this duty the Republican organization is better equipped than anyone else, and it is more interested in having the lists right and the vote honest. There is ample time for inspection and correction. No actual fraud may be intended, but there is reason to believe the lists contain many names that do not belong there and have omitted many of persons recently removed into the districts, just as did those of Philadelphia.

Germany's latest tariff and "sanitary" exclusion laws are having an undesired effect. Cattle on the hoof are quoted in Berlin at 14 to 15 cents the pound and the butchers of the city have petitioned for repeal of the laws. These laws have been much discussed in this country, together with the clause imposing maximum rates, which may be rebated by commercial treaties. The purpose has been to force the United States into giving favored treatment to German products. The German eagerness has apparently defeated its own object by bringing about a state of affairs that is intolerable.

A discovery of a process for making gasoline from natural gas is reported by the Titusville Herald, the machinery being a vacuum gas pump and a condensing tank and coil. It may be mentioned for the benefit of the Herald and the Titusville inventor that gasoline from the vacuum gas pump is an old story in the Speechley district in Butler county, where well pumpers have a production of several gallons daily without using a condenser. The phenomenon demonstrates the close kinship of petroleum, natural gas and gasoline, but the precise method of transformation by the vacuum pump remains to be explained. It is probable the industry of making gasoline from low pressure gas wells may, in time, amount to something.

It is a good thing the government collects accurate statistics decennially, for while figures do not lie, liars do figure. The Chicago Record-Herald carries a table of alleged statistics of automobile accidents which it prints above reports of such accidents. The table appeared on Wednesday. It accredited Pittsburgh with 12 deaths and 50 persons injured by automobiles since January 1, causing it to lead the list. As a matter of fact there has been just one fatality in this city from an automobile accident this year. There have been a number of persons injured, but not as many as 50. The remainder of the table may be accurate, but this one item casts doubt on it.

Revise the Tariff.

In this broad country with its abounding prosperity there are unmistakabale signs of unrest. The common people, grown rotund with fatness, have forgotten the lean years and are demanding a change in the tariff laws. There is no better time than the present to undertake revision. This Fifty-ninth congress of the United States is peculiarly fitted for the task and ought to perform the duty. Revise the tariff now and then let it alone for the next ten years.

In advocating present revision of the tariff schedules The Gazette does not believe the existing tariff to be injurious to many interests—it knows of none that is harmed. The Gazette abates none of its faith in the protective principle. It stands, as it has always stood, for protection to American labor and American capital. There is no room to doubt that a protective tariff is the basis of national prosperity. The student of history cannot avoid that conclusion if he follow the lines with an open mind. Revision of the tariff at this time must be on sound protective lines and no other.

The Fifty-ninth congress is a Republican congress. It is economically sound. Speaker Joseph G. Cannon is a protectionist; Sereno E. Payne, John Dalzell, Charles H. Grosvenor, ranking members of the committee on ways and means, these are among the most ardent protectionists in this country. With these men to lead and a solid phalanx of Republicans behind them, when the tariff is taken up for revision it will be in the hands of its friends. It will be revised right. No industry, no material interest will suffer. There ought not to be any fear about revising the tariff while these men, good and true, are there to do it. There ought not to be any delay to a less opportune time.

There are many schedules that may be reduced without exposing American industries to foreign competition. Some of them might be cut in half. There are a few schedules that should be raised to give better protection. Never has there been a more favorable time to do this. Teeming prosperity greets the observer on every hand. Mills and factories are overwhelmed with orders, labor is fully employed, the fecund earth is yielding crops almost without parallel in agricultural annals. If tariff adjustment is a shock to business there will never come a moment when business will be in better condition to bear it. This prosperity, practically continuous, began with the enactment of the Dingley law. That law was the foundation on which it was built. The Fifty-ninth congress can be trusted to frame a new act without abandonment of the Dingley principle; in the Sixtieth congress it may not be so.

"Stand pat." Grand advice from a sturdy statesman who has passed to the other life. Stand pat always when there is no reasonable chance to draw anything better. When the Hon. M. A. Hanna gave to a poker term a national significance, his party stood pat on a hand that could not have been improved. That hand has been played for five years of unexampled prosperity and there is clamoring for a new deal.

In a decade the bitter lessons of 1893-4-5-6 have been forgotten. The full stomach feels no pang of the past hunger. Safety is longing for a change. Shall it be a new diet, or no food? By all means a new diet. Something nourishing and some beans. If the Fifty-ninth congress does its duty and readjusts the tariff on a protective basis, with due regard to the protection of all classes, the Republican party can "stand pat" for another 10 years. Prosperity will abide in the land. If the Fifty-ninth congress does not do this, no man may say who will be called to do it. It is foolish to pretend not to hear the call. It has been given voice so often from the west to New England. Senseless though it be, it is earnest. There must be tariff revision and it should be right revision, on protection lines, made by the able ways and means committee of the present and indorsed by the congress that is soundly Republican.

Mr. Plummer's Enemies.

During the past few days The Gazette has received several communications signed "Republican," assailing J. Lee Plummer and scolding this paper for its comments on Henry C. Niles. The writer took care not to sign his name, but his identity is known. He is connected with a quasi-religious organization whose members do not vote because they contend the Constitution is wicked.

What right has this man to sign himself "Republican," and what right has he to fuss about candidates? Under the guarantee of the Constitution he professes to despise he has the right of free speech and to plead for a change in the Constitution. But he belongs to no party and has no right to shout in the battle where he will not fight.

Outside of the hungry Democratic party the anti-Plummer forces consist of impracticals like unto this alleged "Republican," a handful of disappointed office seekers and a few disconsolates who are ready to play "follow the leader" with any one whose personal grievance may make him melancholy enough to be fit company for them.

Aside from specious pleading and a display of legal acumen the letter of Henry C. Niles is nonsense. It cannot be taken seriously from any point of view. It is a tissue of misstatements, intricately woven with false arguments and commonly accepted platitudes. It was designed to enable the Democratic papers to shout about Mr. Plummer's "bad record," but is so inextricably involved with unsupportable assertion that not even the Democratic journals have dared to analyze it, or hold up any concrete part of it as fact.

Truth and Justice Wanted.

Mayor Hays said yesterday that Police Superintendent Wallace denied the language attributed to him in reference to the complainant against one of his East End policemen. The denial is tardy, but is decidedly in order, for the reported words are absolutely inconsistent with the duties of Supt. Wallace's position.

Meantime the women's clubs, notably the Women's Interdenominational Missionary society and Wimodausis, have become interested. They propose to investigate and to act and their interest is timely. Public rights cannot be trampled on with impunity when public sentiment is aroused, and public sentiment can be thoroughly aroused by indignant womanhood.

As for the case that has provoked the tempest—the alleged indignities put upon an East End woman by a patrolman—it had better be handled in court. The processes of the courts, an impartial judge, the liability of witnesses for perjured testimony, are more conducive to obtaining the exact truth than special inquiries. And if a police officer has been guilty of gross violation of his official duty, he should be made an example. Until the exact truth is ascertained the public interest will not flag.

The Maryland Situation.

It was to have been expected that Maryland Republicans in state convention would denounce the Poe suffrage amendment to the state constitution. As its effect is to disfranchise intelligent as well as ignorant voters at the will of partisan election judges Maryland Republicans say, let the honest man's vote be cast and let it be honestly counted. One plank in the Republican state platform makes clear the muddied waters with regard to the iniquitous Poe amendment. It says:

"It will empower these petty, partisan officers to decide arbitrarily who shall and who shall not enjoy the election franchise, without any appeal that can give substantial relief, if, indeed, there can be any appeal at all to the courts; it will thus enable the present Democratic political organization, and its successors in political power and machinery, to determine in advance of the vote approximately the number of persons who shall be registered, in order to enable it to carry every election district and voting precinct in the state."

This is the only fight that is going on in Maryland. It is not negro domination, but Gorman perpetuation. The Gazette believes the great intelligence of the state will be on the side of fair play and no favors as to the competency of either white or black voters. Senator Gorman has in this drastic political trick forgotten some of the cards held by the people. So far the Republican party has the best end of the fight, and we doubt not will continue to hold the advantage until the votes are counted—provided, of course, that the ballots are honestly handled.

West Virginia is one ahead of the ever forehanded state of Kansas. Both have officially adopted state flowers, but the Mountain state has a state anthem, "West Virginia Hills." Kansas might come back by filching a song out of the old campmeeting song book, "What Shall the Harvest Be?"

It is a wonder Wall street stocks were not shaken when the Altoona Gazette printed at the head of its local market reports, "Sauerkraut appears at the Altoona market." Of course this gave a decided impetus to cabbage stocks.

One Philadelphia register assessor refused to put the name of the Hon. Israel Durham on his list until Mr. Durham appeared in person. Will this man's list be repudiated by Director Potter as flagrantly fraudulent?

There is some question whether the City party of Philadelphia will put Berry's name on its ticket. The City party hesitates to become an annex to the Democratic state machine.

Civilization of the western type does not appear to have done the Japanese much good. Formerly the will of the mikado was accepted without riotous protest.

The deadly automobile is fast making a record for "maimed, killed and disfigured" that will soon put the railroads out of business in the line of decimating the population.

The leaves are beginning to turn, like a few Republicans in this state who have absorbed all the political sap in sight.

Germany is getting the benefit of its American exclusion acts. Cattle on the hoof 14 to 15 cents a pound.

Controller Larkin denies he ever said meters would make water cost more. Who was it said this?

Why does the Post never appeal to the honest Democrats in the state? Are there none?

Chicago and Tokyo have some things in common. Riots, for example.

Kansas corn is immense, but the Kansas yarns are taller.

More About Snakes and Snake Eggs.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—I am surprised to see that in my letter to you with regard to snakes, published in today's issue, I allowed myself to make the statement that the rattlesnake does not lay eggs. This is a slip of the pen, as the rattlesnake does lay eggs, but seldom to exceed the number of ten or fifteen. Yours very truly,

A PREACHMENT BY THE QUIET OBSERVER

Touching on Employments Which Women Find Agreeable and Profitable.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

The watchword of the times is, "Do something that is worth doing."

There are a lot of people doing things, and making no little fuss about it, which might as well be let alone as far as beneficial results are concerned.

This is particularly true of women whose misfortune it is to have money enough to hire all their work done, leaving them to skirmish around for something by which to while away the time, for unemployed time becomes most burdensome, even more so than domestic cares and housework combined.

But it is claimed that there is not enough of woman's work to afford employment for all, so that some have been compelled to go out of the beaten paths in search of something to do.

It is also argued that those who have plenty of money should employ those who haven't money, so that they may be able to support themselves.

Club women say they combine in order that they may conduct their chosen work more harmoniously an effectively.

Thus it doth appear that each and everyone can give a reason for what they are doing.

* * *

The time was when women did not go into shops to work, and only a few were employed as school teachers. Nor did there seem to be a surplus of women.

But times have changed. Foreigners have been brought in to take the places of home talent as housekeepers. Housework has been quite generally tabooed by the rich, and those who feel themselves just as good as their rich neighbors, employ maids and cooks and housekeepers, thus cutting their daughters out of healthful and profitable employment.

Society, and the club, is about all there is left for these abandoned children when they grow into women.

What do these women do that is really beneficial to the times in which they live? Do they give to the world sons who become strong and great, and who do things worth while?

So far our great and good men, almost without exception, have come from the common people.

* * *

What may women do who have to make their way in the world?

This is a more serious question in cities than in the country. But who can better answer this question than woman has already answered it? She has entered every open door, and has made herself so much at home that no one dares order her out, at least not as long as she remains agreeable and profitable.

Any kind of work that a woman can do well is fit for her to do. But there are some kinds of work that women are specially fitted to do, and which they can do really better than men.

Nursing and hospital work, belongs to this class. The professional nurse has come to stay. Indeed, it seems that the world cannot get along without her.

Following is a letter from a southern correspondent that will be appreciated by the trained nurse and her friends:

* * *

Among the "special blessings" of the present day none contribute more to the general good than the trained nurse. What more honorable mission or calling is there in which an intelligent, ambitious young lady can enter? Many persons have very mistaken and erroneous opinions concerning her work. Criticisms are numerous. By some it is thought improper and out of place for a young lady to engage in this profession. This is a maudlin sentimentality. It is just as honorable as the medical profession. In fact, it is the right arm of the "healing art," and its practical adjunct.

The trained nurse is prepared for her work by a course of study, both educational and practical experience, after which she must undergo a rigid examination, when she will be granted a diploma, and will be authorized to enter upon her profession. She is then qualified to become the honored associate of the physician. The good physician properly estimates her services and is assured a faithful record of the case will be observed, the symptoms reported, the comfort of the patient provided for, and his directions properly executed.

This, however, is only a part of her service. Her gentle ministrations in the sick room are of incalculable benefit; her watchful care and attention to the wants of the patient have a wonderful influence in removing the gloom from the sick room; there is frequently a very charm in her presence and a magnetic power in her skillful service.

Is not the refined, intelligent, competent trained nurse a boon and a blessing to the afflicted and the suffering? She is by nature and by education adapted to this mission, and is in her proper sphere, where she can be a blessing to the human race. What profession can be more honorable than that to which she is called? Are there not needs and demands for more of these well-qualified nurses, both in hospital and private family? The profession is open and invites them to engage in this high and noble calling. The compensation for such services should be liberal and generous. In many cases it would be an exceedingly difficult matter to arrive at a true valuation of what she had contributed to the recovery of the patient. None but those who have experienced these wise, thoughtful and kindly ministrations can have a proper conception of their worth and value.

We conclude then from these considerations that the office of the trained nurse is one of the most honorable and useful professions and secures the highest and most beneficial results to the community. The people will "rise up and call her blessed."

How well it is "To live to make some pale face brighter, and to give a second luster to some tear-dimmed eye; or e'en impart one throb of comfort to an aching heart, or cheer some way-worn soul in passing by."

A WELL-WISHER.

COLUMBIA.

[The author of the following poem, Timothy Dwight, was born May 14, 1752, graduated at Yale, 1769; chaplain in Continental army, 1777. While chaplain he wrote "Columbia," which in the light of recent events is probably the most remarkably prophetic production regarding the United States ever uttered.]

Columbia, Columbia, to glory arise;
The queen of the world and the child of the skies;
Thy genius commands thee. With rapture behold,
While ages on ages thy splendors unfold.
Thy reign is the last and the noblest of time;
Most fruitful thy soil, most inviting thy clime.
Let the crimes of the east ne'er encrimson thy name;
Be freedom, and science, and virtue thy fame.
To conquest and slaughter let Europe aspire;
Whelm nations in blood and wrap cities in fire.
Thy heroes the rights of mankind shall defend,
And triumph pursue them, and glory attend.
A world is thy realm—for a world be thy laws
Enlarged as thy empire, and just as thy cause.
On freedom's broad basis, that empire shall rise,
Extend with the main, and dissolve with the skies.
Thy fleets to all regions thy power shall display;
The nations admire, and the ocean obey.
Each shore to the glory its tribute unfold,
And the east and the south yield their spices and gold.
As the day-spring unbounded, thy splendor shall flow,
And earth's little kingdoms before thee bend low,
While the ensigns of union, in triumph unfolded,
Hush the tumult of war, and give peace to the world.

EVERYBODY CARRIES PNEUMONIA GERMS

Commission of Investigation Learns Surprising Things—Bed Too Short for Witte.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The first report of the commission which was appointed by the board of health in October, 1961, to investigate pneumonia is made public today. Although it was known that the pneumonia germ, or pneumococcus, sometimes occurs in the mouths of healthy persons, further and more detailed knowledge as to the extent of this occurrence was the first problem attacked by the commission, and has resulted in some very surprising discoveries. It has been found that organisms in every way similar to pneumococci, in fact, true pneumonia germs, live in the mouths of every healthy person in cities at some time during the year.

"It seems more than probable," the report says, "that practically every individual, at least during the winter season when exposed to environmental conditions such as those existing in New York City, acts as the host, at some time or other, and probably at repeated intervals, of organisms of the true pneumococcus type."

Little or no difference was found in virulence between pneumococci, obtained from the mouths of pneumonia patients and healthy persons. That is to say the germs taken from the mouth of a healthy man were as fatal when injected into white mice as those from a severe case of lobar pneumonia. Dr. Park and his assistants conclude that "cases of pneumonia should be considered to a certain degree as contagious, and since the virulence of the pneumococcus may be quickly increased, and since the organism is very prevalent in normal sputum, all possible measures should be taken to restrict public expectoration."

Bed Too Small for Big Envoy.

M. Witte, Russia's peace envoy, has rejected the royal suite at the Hotel St. Regis. He is occupying four very quiet rooms on the seventh floor of the hostelry, where he is receiving a few intimate friends and dodging many cranks who have come to him with schemes to repair Russia's finances, raise sunken ships and restore peace in Russian provinces. That M. Witte should have refused to occupy the royal suite and use that $10,000 bed has created comment. His reasons are similar to those recently given by E. R. Thomas, who stands considerably over six feet in his stockings, and who could not stretch out to full length in the bed. M. Witte used this bed upon his arrival in this country and he got up next morning cramped. The bed is too short.

Women Work for Mr. Dorden.

With the girls on his side, John E. Dorden, who is running for leader of the Fifteenth assembly district, expects confidently to win, for the young women of the neighborhood have not only formed an auxiliary to the Tallahassee club, the headquarters of the Dorden faction, but he has rallied the prettiest girls in that section to fight under his banner. This is to be no ordinary "women's club," this Tallahassee auxiliary, but a bona fide political organization, and the girls are not only going to take the stump themselves in favor of their selected leader, but will make a personal house to house canvass of the district and urge Mr. Dorden's election.

Mr. Jerome Is Put to Bed.

Friends of District Attorney Jerome were very much alarmed this afternoon at the report that he is seriously ill. Mr. Jerome did not come down to his office in the criminal courts building today, but as he has had a severe cold nothing was thought of his absence until the report came that he had a high fever and would probably be compelled to give up his work in the office and preparations for the coming campaign, for several days. Shortly after the hour which generally finds the district attorney at his desk, a telephone message was received from his wife. Mrs. Jerome said that her husband was very ill, and that despite his protests he had been ordered by his doctor to remain in bed.

Sound Sleeper Pays Penalty.

James Schmitz of 6 Convent Place, who is a sound sleeper, was visited by a burglar last night, who got away with $50 worth of silverware, two suits of clothes and a square meal. The burglar made himself perfectly at home, with evident knowledge of Schmitz's sleeping capacity. First he went to the dinning room and got out all the silver. There were evidences that he tested piece after piece with acid. He did not take away the plated ware. Then he went up on the second floor, entered Schmitz's bedroom and took two suits of clothes. He exchanged one for his own on the spot, leaving at the foot of Schmitz's bed the shabby rags that had clothed his rather slim, burglarious form.

The All Night Bank Again.

Mirabeau L. Towns, the "poet-lawyer" of Brooklyn, who with his partner, Edward J. McCrossin, has purchased the Hotel Vendome in Broadway, announced today that an all-night trust company would be a novel feature of the hotel under its new management. "I believe that an all-night trust company is a necessity in New York in connection with a good hotel," said Mr. Towns. "Arrivals with large sums of money frequently hesitate to leave it in a safe, when they would have no such hesitation in depositing it in a regularly organized trust company."

A Bolsted Point, but Well Made.

It can be proved beyond all question that more persons are killed in railway trains than in submarine vessels. Yet Mr. Roosevelt frequently exposes himself to the dangers of railway travel without causing any protest on the part of the over-anxious.—Chicago Tribune.

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

Gossipy Chat and Anecdote of Entertaining and Instructive Character.

"One of the greatest triumphs of the late William McKinley's life was his appearance before a big audience at the Piedmont Chautauqua, down in Georgia, something like 29 years ago," said Mr. A. O. Truscott, at the Raleigh.

"It was on the suggestion of that gifted southerner, Henry Grady, that Maj. McKinley was invited to come. Col. Evan P. Howell, whose sad death happened but lately, was another prominent man who sounded the idea of asking the Ohioan to visit the south. A magnificent audience was assembled to hear him, and Grady introduced him in his usual happy way. I was one of the few northern men present, and I remember how nervous I was over the thought that my countryman would fail to make a good impression among people who were naturally antagonistic to the speaker.

"His theme was the advantages of a protective tariff, and this, too, was not popular doctrine in Georgia. For the first ten minutes of McKinley's speech I felt like hanging my head. He seemed constrained and diffident, and his sentences, delivered in cold monotone, appeared to have a chilling effect.

"All at once there came a change. The man seemed to wake up and in an instant he began talking as though he were inspired, and speaking to a concourse of his brethren. The crowd changed, too, from a passive, inert throng, to a most responsive attitude, and immediately the enthusiasm of a southern audience manifested itself in hearty cheers. Then I saw that all my forebodings were foolish. McKinley in all his life never made a more eloquent or taking speech, and when he finished the applause that went up was stupendous. It was sincere, too. He won his way right into the hearts of his hearers, and I think it was one of the greatest oratorical triumphs of modern times.—Washington Post.

One of Speaker Reed's Stories.

The late Thomas B. Reed used to tell the following: Dr. Reed of Indianapolis, who was in congress at one time, was opening the Sunday morning service at his church with the usual prayer. While he was in the midst of the prayer, a stranger entered the church and took a seat far back.

Dr. Reed was praying in a low voice and the man in the rear after straining his ears for a while, called out: "Pray louder, Dr. Reed; I can't hear you."

Dr. Reed paused, opened his eyes, and turned them around till they rested on the man in the rear, then he said: "I was not addressing you, sir. I was speaking to God."—Boston Woods Bugle.

Put in Plain Language.

It was in a case before the supreme court of Maine. A party had sued the Boston & Maine railroad to recover damages for personal injuries. The company's attorney, Mr. Yeaton, was examining the plaintiff, a rather illiterate man from one of the rural districts, and was endeavoring, apparently, to confuse him.

"Did you say an abrasion of the tibia?" he asked.

The witness stared helplessly at his questioner.

"I say," again ventured the attorney, "was there a contusion of the ankle?"

The witness was ready to collapse, when his attorney, Lawyer Copeland, who had a voice like a megaphone, cried out: "He wants to know did he bark his shin."—Boston Herald.

Speaker Cannon's Bon Mot.

Speaker Joseph Cannon, in response to a toast at a recent dinner, began his remarks so as to create the initial laugh which is so much desired by orators as a preparation for weightier matter to follow.

"Astronomers tell you," he began, "according to the gentleman who has just sat down, 'that an express train moving a hundred miles a second would consume several million years in reaching a certain star.'"

He paused and looked toward the guest to whom he had referred.

"That was the statement," said the speaker's neighbor, nodding.

"I was just thinking," pursued Mr. Cannon, "what a predicament a man would be in if he should miss the last train and have to walk."

Getting at the Facts.

The census taker rapped at the door of the little farmhouse and opened his long book. A plump girl of about 16 came to the door and blinked at him stupidly.

"How many people live here?" he began.

"Nobody lives here. We are only staying through the hot season."

"I'm here. Father's in the woodshed, and Bill is"—

"See here, my girl, I want to know how many inmates are in this house. How many people slept here last night?"

"Nobody slept here, sir. I had the toothache dreadful, and my little brother had the stomachache and the new hired man's helping us got sunburned so on his back that he has blisters the size of eggs; and we all took on so that nobody slept a wink all night long."—Youth's Companion.

Got Even With the Judge.

Judge Sewall and Joseph Story were dining together at an inn, when a jolly son of Erin appeared at the door and called for dinner. The landlord told him he could eat when the gentlemen had finished.

"Let him dine with us," whispered Judge Sewall, "and we will have some fun with him."

The Irishman took his seat at the table.

"You were not born in this country," said Story.

"No, I was born in Ireland."

"Is your father living?"

"No, sir."

"What was his occupation?"

"Trading horses, sir."

"Did he ever cheat anyone?"

"I suppose he did, sir."

"Where do you suppose he went to?"

"To heaven, sir."

"Has he ever cheated anyone there?"

"He has cheated one man, I believe."

"Was he prosecuted?"

"He was not, sir."

"Why not?"

"Because they searched the kingdom of heaven for a lawyer to take the case and couldn't find one."—Boston Herald.

Answered Too Soon.

He was embarrassed, ill at ease; she was calm, self-possessed.

"If it were only over," he whispered excitedly, "I know I'll do it wrong."

"It won't take long, Rubin," she answered consolingly. "You haven't much to say."

The minister was speaking: "Kindly change places with the bride."

John attempted to do so, and stepped on the toe of her boot, and raising his arm caught his cuffbutton in her veil.

"Do be careful," she implored.

"Oh," he groaned, "before all these staring people, too."

"Rub-b"—

The minister began the ceremony. John grew more embarrassed, and fumbled with the roses of his bouquet. Then he put his hand in his pocket and pulling out his handkerchief carelessly mopped his brow.

The church was quiet, save for the voice of the minister.

"If any person knows any just reason," he was saying, "why these two should not be joined together let him now speak or forever"—

"I will!" shouted John.—Baltimore Sun.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings About the People Who Are Traveling.

August P. Belmont never set foot in Pittsburgh last evening, but his presence here was known only to a few of the Pennsylvania system employes. Accompanied by his son, August P. Belmont, Jr., the steward of finance and owner of railroads, electric lines and part of the New York subway, was returning to New York from a visit to North Dakota. He arrived from Chicago on Pt. Wayne train No. 16 at 9:20 o'clock occupying his private car, the Mineola. The car was attached to the fourth section of the New York flyer and went east from the Union station at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Belmont, while being one of the most affable of men in his bearing toward his fellows, has long been known as the "Sphinx of Wall Street" in newspaper men, and the exclusion of a representative of The Gazette last evening but emphasized the fact that Mr. Belmont refuses to be interviewed either at home or abroad. After merely saying that he and his son were returning eastward from North Dakota, Mr. Belmont refused to answer a single question.

"Has your trip to the northwest any particular significance in finance or railroading?" was asked.

Mr. Belmont shook his head.

"Were you interested in the opening of new reservations of lands?"

Another shake of the head with a smile.

"Is there any new phase of the surface or subway situation in New York?"

The jovial banker in the building of the subway shook his head.

"Have you heard of the improvements for railways in Pittsburgh?"

Another shake of the head.

"Won't you say just a word as to whether you think there would be a good thing for this city?"

Again the head that controls gigantic financial affairs, the face wearing a smile.

"Do you care to say a word of what you think of the peace treaty between Japan and Russia as it concerns the commercial or industrial supremacy of the United States, or was that phase of the settlement?"

"My dear sir," said the affable Mr. Belmont, "the best newspaper man in New York couldn't get a word from me, and I must not break over now. I should like to say something, but I must decline as he 'interviewed.'"

And with that The Gazette man wished the Messrs. Belmont a good night, and the response came from the elder Belmont, "Good night, sir."

St. Louis Mayor in Pittsburgh.

Mayor Rolla Wells of St. Louis was a passenger through Pittsburgh on the St. Louis limited of the Pennsylvania system last night. He is returning from a point of two weeks in the east. "Just a rest trip, a little cruising in Long Island sound, a visit to Vermont, and being caught in a rain that put us up a couple of days," as he expressed his visit to the east. "I should have enjoyed going to Portsmouth and had an invitation to join a class friend of mine on his yacht, but I was too late to be there at the most interesting portion of the peace conference period, so I did not go.

"How is St. Louis? Booming, and in splendid shape—in better shape, commercially and politically, in fact, than it has ever been. The political situation there is quiet now, as we have no elections of importance for about three years to come. Contrary to what is said about cities suffering by disclosure of business interests after a great fire or exposition has been held in them, St. Louis is enjoying the most industrial and commercial life in her history. The Louisiana Purchase exposition really benefited the city more than was expressed by those who were so all inclined to take such a view of the outcome of the fair."

Then, evidencing that he believes somewhat, if not altogether, in home industry, he passed the cigars.

"When I smother a fine St. Louis brand," said he, "I always take a good chaser with me, and never smoke any others."

A Good Revenue Producer.

That the little parcel room in the specialty policy of the Union station is a good producer of revenue for the Pennsylvania system is shown in the handling of 12 lbs pieces of baggage and luggage there in August. For each of these pieces a fee of 5 cents was charged on that form these charges alone there was a revenue of $600. Then there are charges for storage. The 5 cents pays for 24 hours, and for each 24 hours after the 24 have elapsed, a charge of 10 cents is made. The maximum charge for a month is $1. After a period of 30 days, if the baggage is not claimed, it is sold for storage charges. One of the provisions is that no claim for baggage of more than $50 value will be allowed in case of loss or injury or otherwise. The large number of pieces carried for in August shows to what extent the parcel room is used by patrons of the Pennsylvania system.

With the People Who Are Traveling.

W. S. Everest, traffic manager of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, went over the Pennsylvania lines on a business trip of several days.

G. L. Potter, third vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio, went east on the Pittsburgh express.

J. J. Pollard, a grocer of Hazelwood, returned home on the Baltimore & Ohio Chicago limited from a vacation visit to Atlantic City to his mother in Baltimore.

HAYS ORDERS CLARK NOT TO HOLD OUTING AT CITY FARM

Director's Friends in Councils, However, Will Ignore Mayor's Mandate and Set a Date for Annual Visit to Marshalsea.

Mayor Hays has given notice to Director James W. Clark that he must dispense this year with the annual inspection of the Pittsburgh city home at Marshalsea by members of the city councils, city officials and others. Director Clark went to the mayor a few days ago to lay before him plans for the annual outing at the city farm, but was met with the abrupt announcement that an inspection would not be held this year.

The mayor did not give his reasons. Although greatly disappointed, Director Clark said nothing about the matter until members of councils and others asked him when the outing would take place, as it had been an event, particularly under Director Clark's administration, that has been looked forward to with much interest. The director was forced to tell his inquirers that the mayor had "sat down" hard on the proposition, and much ire has been roused at the city executive thereat.

The friends of Director Clark ascribe the mayor's action to envy of the growing popularity of the director of charities and of a determination on the part of the administration to keep him down. Director Clark is easily the most popular department head of the mayor's cabinet and is strong politically among the rank and file. It has also been generally known for some time that Clark has cherished an ambition to succeed W. B. Hays as the executive of the city, and the administration is bent upon nipping this aspiration in the bud.

Therefore, Director Clark's friends see animus in the mayor's refusal to permit the outing at Marshalsea which has been a custom for many years. These annual inspections, as they are called, under Director Clark have brought together not only the members of Pittsburgh councils but officials, prominent politicians of both cities and the county, and a number of physicians and others especially invited by the director to inspect the home.

Mayor Hays was plainly bored at the last inspection when, during the sumptuous dinner that was served for the 200 guests, he fled from the table when he learned he was to be called upon for a speech. Some of the more charitable of Director Clark's friends say that it was probably this fear that actuated the mayor in "calling off" the inspection this year.

The supporters of Director Clark in councils, however, are determined that the outing shall be held and at the usual time, notwithstanding the mandate of the mayor, and it is announced that on next Monday a resolution will be introduced in both branches setting a day in the middle of the present month for the annual inspection and visit to the city farm. It is believed that when councils vote to visit the city farm that Director Clark will have no alternative but to receive them, and that the mayor will be obliged to acquiesce, but he will probably not attend himself.

MARSHALL STILL HELD IN TOMBS

Alleged Pittsburgh Swindler Is Given a Hearing Before Justice Dugro in New York.

CONVICTED HERE IN JUNE

Although vigorously defended by Attorney Moses H. Grossman at the hearing before Justice Dugro in the supreme court in New York city yesterday, Albert G. Marshall, the Pittsburgher wanted on swindling charges, was yesterday remanded to the Tombs. On Saturday morning the attorneys will hand up their briefs for a final decision by the court.

The case was brought before Justice Dugro on a writ of habeas corpus, Marshall having been remanded by Magistrate Breen in the Tombs police court on Wednesday. Marshall was in handcuffs when taken to the court house, but the irons were removed when he reached the court room door. He was met in the court room by his wife and young daughter.

Mrs. Marshall is a good looking young woman with dark hair. She wore a walking gilt of blue taffeta silk and a blue straw hat trimmed with white and blue flowers. The daughter of the pair carried a doll in her arms.

The legal papers filed with the exemplified copy of the warrant for Marshall's arrest set forth that Mrs. Louisa A. Henry and P. M. Buzard were defrauded in transactions involving $13,000. Marshall protested his innocence.

Opposed to Marshall's Release.

Assistant District Attorney Johnston opposed the application for the release of Marshall. He was assisted by Frederick L. Kahler, a lawyer of Pittsburgh, and Henry T. Fay of this city, special counsel for the state of Pennsylvania. Mr. Grossman began the argument for Marshall by saying that his arrest was illegal, and exclaimed:

"A burlesque examination was held before the magistrate and this man was wrongfully charged with larceny, embezzlement and conspiracy. The affidavit in this case was made before an alderman in Pittsburgh."

He then reviewed in detail the charges made against Marshall before the magistrate.

Mr. Grossman said that the charge of conspiracy based upon the affidavit of Mrs. Henry was insufficient in that it did not allege either by terms or implication personal knowledge about the facts sworn to by her. Counsel asserted that it is not criminal to sell worthless stock or other worthless property. He also contended that there was no sufficient complaint or affidavit before the court to justify the detention of Marshall on the charges of embezzlement and larceny. Mr. Johnston said that the proceedings were regular and that the action of Magistrate Breen in holding Marshall was fully justified by the law and the facts in the case.

Back to the Tombs.

Justice Dugro gave counsel until tomorrow morning to hand up briefs. Marshall was remanded to the Tombs.

Investigation of the records of the Allegheny county court of quarter sessions shows that the present charges are not the first which have been made against Marshall. Only last June he was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and spend one day in jail as the result of prosecution on charges of embezzlement. The action was based on operations he had conducted under the name of the "Pittsburgh Consolidated Oil Company."

The scheme Marshall proposed was a consolidation of all the independent oil saloon concerns of the city and many persons were induced to subscribe to the stock receiving in return some of the handsomest specimens of the engraver's art ever used in Pittsburgh. Besides they received an exceptionally fine gold seal. Outside of these and some unsatisfactory explanations they received nothing. The name of Frank D. Dunbar was signed as secretary of the company.

Attorney Frederick H. Mercer was retained to prosecute Marshall and on April 27, 1905, he was held by Alderman Groetzinger for court under $500 bail furnished by A. G. Childs.

BUNCOES THE BUTCHER.

With Forged Orders McKeesport Newsboy Said to Have Lived on Fat of the Land.

Frederick Shaw, a newsboy of McKeesport, is locked up charged with having worked a bunco game on a McKeesport meat market. Shaw is said to have kept his family supplied with the finest meats and best rolls of country butter for several weeks.

At the police station an examination brought forth an admission from the lad that he had frequently forged orders for meats and butter, signing the names of well-known persons living in the city. The supplies he took home to his mother, who believed the boy was purchasing them with the money he made selling papers. The money, it is said, really went to the 10, 20 and 30 cent shows playing in the city.

S. J. TOOLE VERY ILL.

Alderman of the First Ward Has Two Serious Sinking Spells.

Stephen J. Toole, alderman of the First ward and a power in the ward politics, is very ill. The cause of the trouble is said to be a stomach disorder.

Mr. Toole became ill on Wednesday night and was revived from a sinking spell only after hard work by physicians. He was unable to conduct his hearings yesterday, and last evening became suddenly very ill again. It required over an hour of the physician's efforts to bring him back to consciousness.

NEW THEATER REVEALS BEAUTY

Belasco Playhouse Displays Interior Decorations That Are Handsome and Artistic.

IVORY AND GOLD PREVAIL

Glistening, shining and elaborately inviting and comfortable, the rejuvenated Duquesne theater, under its new title as Belasco theater, is practically ready to receive its patrons. Next Monday night the new theater will formally open its doors and a revelation is promised those who pass its portals.

The fresco decorations of the entire interior are in Italian renaissance. The ceilings are done in ivory effect, with a balustrade frieze in Chiaro scuro, which produces a relief effect on a flat surface. Side wall decorations are in ivory and gold in imitation of silk damask.

The proscenium arch decorations are of cove effect, with ornamentations of Italian renaissance in candelabra compositions, showing relief next to real relief work. The appearance is strikingly deceptive. The ceiling is worked out in the same design, with sky effect, while in the center appears the head of Meduso, which is in tragic composition. The boxes and balconies have all been treated in ivory and gold decorations, producing a perfectly blending harmony. All the woodwork in the theater has been painted in ivory and gold.

The new asbestos curtain is painted in drapery effect, in royal red, while the new drop curtain, which is expected to arrive today, promises to be a revelation in artistic beauty.

The lower floor has been entirely reseated in fine, green leather, ball-bearing chairs, whose special distinction lies in the fact that they are entirely sanitary and free from the possibility of accumulation of dirt and dust, which the former plush chairs were subject to. The house has been entirely recarpeted with heavy Wilton velvet carpet, royal red in color, a color which is in harmony with the draperies of the boxes. Thousands of new electric light bulbs stud the entire interior.

A handsome iron canopy has been erected at the front entrance of the theater, which extends over all the entrance and exit doors, so that patrons will be able to step from the curb to their carriage without having to suffer from the weather conditions. An electric carriage call has been placed in a convenient location and an excellent system for the arrival and departure of carriages has been inaugurated.

The placing of 370 orchestra chairs in the top balcony, which will be always reserved, is expected to be one of the best departures of the new management, in speaking of this change, the local manager, Mr. George W. Sammis, said: "We are expecting this to be a great feature, from the fact that patrons for that part of the theater will be enabled to secure their seats in advance, thus enabling a large number who would like to see the class of attractions that will appear at the Belasco, and whose means are limited, to enjoy as much comfort as those seated on the lower floor."

LE BELLE AGAIN COMMANDER.

Allegheny Police Clerk Is Honored by the Marine Veteran's Association.

Police Clerk Jacques Le Belle of Allegheny received word from Niagara Falls, N. Y., yesterday that he had been re-elected national commander-in-chief of the Marine Veterans' association, in annual convention there. The other officers elected were: Charles D. Alston, senior vice commander, Denver, Col.; Howard Dover, junior vice commander, Houston, Tex.; Harry F. Orr, treasurer, Constantine Mich.; George T. Price, secretary, Allegheny; Capt. J. C. Horn, judge advocat, Gloucester, N. J.; Frank Halliday, chief master-at-arms, Racine, Wis.; Capt. J. C. Clark, sentinel, St. Augustine, Fla.

The convention voted to have the national officers urge upon the navy department the immediate payment of prize money earned by the Spanish war men in the naval battles of '98. None of this money has yet been distributed.

MAY SEIZE EGGS.

State Food Commission Informed on Some That Are Ancient.

Hundreds of cases of canned eggs which are being preserved with chemicals are said to be lying in Pittsburgh cold storage warehouses, and the state dairy food commission has been notified of the fact, and may confiscate the goods.

Dr. B. H. Warren, head of the department, has been informed where the eggs can be found and is expected to take prompt action. The eggs which were spoiled when bought from commission houses are said to have been embalmed by the use of formaldehyde.

ANÆMIA CURED

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

The Remedy That Actually Makes New Blood and Strikes Straight at the Root of Disease.

Anaemia is just the doctor's name for bloodlessness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People actually make new blood. Can any cure be more direct or certain? Blood is bound to cure bloodlessness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure anaemia just as food cures hunger. They cured Mrs. Thos. J. McGann of 17 Lincoln Place, Plainfield, N. J., and they can do as much for any other pale, weak, ailing, bloodless person.

"In the spring of 1903 I did my usual house cleaning," says Mrs. McGann, "and soon afterward I began to have the most terrible headaches. My heart would beat so irregularly that it was painful and there came a morning when I could not get up. My doctor said I had anaemia and he was surprised that I had continued to live in the condition I was in. I was confined to my bed for nearly two months, the doctor coming every day for the first few weeks, but I did not improve to amount to anything.

"Altogether I was sick for nearly two years. I was as weak as a rag, had headaches, irregular heart beats, loss of appetite, cramps in the limbs and was unable to get a good night's sleep. My legs and feet were so swollen that I feared they would burst.

"One day, while I was wondering how long I could live, feeling as I did, I received a booklet telling about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I read it and told my husband to get me some of the pills. Before the first box was gone I felt a change for the better. I have taken about twelve boxes and although I was as near the grave as I could be, I now feel as if I had a new lease of life. I have no more headaches, the heart beats regularly, my cheeks are pink and I feel ten years younger. I feel that I have been cured very cheaply and I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to lots of my friends."

When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills replace bad blood with good blood, they strike straight at the root and cause of diseases like headache, biliousness, indigestion, anaemia, neuralgia, sciatica, locomotor ataxia, and the special secret troubles that every woman knows but that none of them like to talk about even to their doctors. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

ERIE PRESIDING ELDERS MAKE ANNUAL REPORT

New Church Buildings Are Being Constructed Throughout Conference. Increase Income.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

RIDGWAY, PA., Sept. 7.—The morning session of the Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church was taken up with reports of work under their charge by Presiding Elders A. R. Rich of the Clarion district; J. B. Espey of the Erie district; J. R. Rankin of the Jamestown district; E. F. Edmunds of the Meadville district; D. F. Randolph of the New Castle district. The Rev. A. B. Phillips of Erie, was placed on the supernumerary list at his own request on account of ill-health.

The Reverends J. M. Crouch, H. M. Burns, W. P. Graham, H. G. Hall and J. H. Clemens were chosen members of a joint commission to serve with a like number from the Genessee conference to adjust a boundary question near Salamanca, N. Y. The Rev. A. S. M. Hopkins and the Rev. Gearing Peters will be appointed conference evangelists at the request of the conference. The Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, one of the general missionary secretaries, gave an address in which he stated that the missionary society received from the church at large $1,501.00 last year, an increase of more than $600.-00 over the society's income five years ago.

The reports of the presiding elders showed that new church buildings are being erected at Reynoldsville, Kane and South Sharon, Pa., and Jamestown and Little Valley, N. Y., while Warren, Pa., and Jamestown, N. Y., will soon build parsonages. This afternoon the Rev. E. H. Askey of Cattaraugus, N. Y., preached the annual missionary sermon.

HUSBAND ENDEAVORS TO FREE WIFE FROM CRIME

Conflicting Testimony Given in Trial of Mrs. Kennedy, Charged as an Accessory to Murder.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 7.—Conflicting testimony was given at the second day's session of the trial of Mrs. Margaret Kennedy as an accessory to the murder of Howard M. Ebner by her husband at New Kensington. Mrs. Nannie Heap and Mrs. Mary Kerr, sisters of Kennedy, offered testimony which was damaging to the accused woman, while Kennedy's evidence tended to refute everything they said.

When he testified that Mrs. Heap had requested him to testify against his wife so that she would be convicted of first degree murder, Mrs. Heap, who was in the court room, shrieked, "Oh, Jim! Oh, Jim!"

Mrs. Kennedy testified at length as to her relations with Ebner, declaring that he had forced her to drink whisky and that when she was helpless he had taken advantage of her. After telling her husband of Ebner's treatment of her, she claimed her husband had purchased a revolver but not to her knowledge, as the commonwealth contends.

EXCITEMENT IN REGARD TO QUESTION OF UNION

Leader of Opposition Offers Resolution in Methodist Protestant Conference.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., Sept. 7.—Suppressed excitement which will continue until a vote on the question of church union is taken late tomorrow afternoon dominated the sessions today of the Pittsburgh annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church.

This morning the Rev. C. C. Shepherd of Washington, Pa., offered a long resolution the substance of which was that the Pittsburgh conference decline to take part in the Dayton meeting. On account of this wording, it is said the resolution has gained enemies who claim that to adopt it would be virtually secession of this conference from the Methodist Protestant denomination as the latter had ordered the different conferences to send delegates to Dayton.

The Rev. Layman E. Davis of Sharpsburg is leading the forces in favor of union and the Rev. Shepherd those against it. As soon as the Rev. Shepherd's resolution was read, the Rev. David Jones of East Liverpool, O., was on his feet with a motion to postpone action on the question of church union until next year. Rev. Shaffer said he thought the conference should indicate its sentiment before the joint meeting next February, after which Rev. Jones withdrew his motion. The resolution was then made the order of business for immediately after the lecture at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

REPORT DEARTH OF PASTORS.

President of Reformed Theological Seminary Says Situation Is Alarming.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—The Rev. Dr. John Calvin Bowman, president of the Reformed Theological seminary at Lancaster, Pa., conferred with the members of the Westmoreland classis of the Pittsburgh synod here today to the dearth of candidates for the ministry in the denomination. The Rev. Dr. Bowman said that the situation is alarming, many charges being without pastors, and few are preparing for the ministry in the church institutions.

Only three members of the large class graduated from Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, which is the principal feeder of the seminary, have matriculated for the three years' course of study which begins next week. Dr. Bowman said that few young men of today become ministers unless they determine upon this course early in life, and he suggested that the members of the classis exert their influence upon Sunday school teachers. An effort is being made to increase the endowment of the seminary by $150,000.

KILLED WHILE DRIVING.

West Park Man Thrown from Buggy in Front of Swift-Moving Street Car.

Neil McDermott, aged 42, of West Park, Stowe township, was instantly killed and a companion, Peter Birmingham, was seriously injured by being thrown in front of a street car while out driving yesterday afternoon.

Their horse took fright at an approaching car and jumped directly in front of it. Both the men were thrown some distance and McDermott was picked up dead with a fractured skull. Birmingham was seriously injured and was brought to the Mercy hospital. Birmingham is a passenger conductor on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and lives in McKees Rocks.

McDermott is survived by his widow and five children. He was engaged in the liquor business in Helen street, but was formerly a conductor on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad.

FARMERS FLOCK TO THE CANADIAN EXHIBIT

Excursion Trains Bring 10,000 Rural Visitors to the Pittsburgh Exposition.

The farmers flocked to the Exposition yesterday. The Canadian agricultural exhibit was the center of attraction. The first of the Exposition excursions on the railroads were run into the city. Fully 10,000 persons came in on these excursions, most of them from the rural districts, who crowded all day long about the Canadian exhibit, where grain, fruit, farm scenes and everything pertaining to the Old Dominion are being displayed.

William A. Burns, secretary of the department of agriculture of Canada, who has been at the Exposition since the installation of the exhibit, says he answered 2,000 questions about the conditions and inducements of northwestern Canada. Canada has spent nearly $25,000 on the exhibit there.

The large audience in the concert hall showed its appreciation of the special program of the second night of symphony, which concluded with the strains of Schubert's Hungarian waltz. Lalo's suite, "Namouna," was played last night for the first time in this city, and met with enthusiastic approval.

Tonight will be the second of the Damrosch Wagner nights. During the first concert, from 7:30 to 8:30, the five numbers, all from Wagner, will include the overture to "The Flying Dutchman," and selections from "Die Meistersinger," "Parsifal" and "Die Gotterdammerung." This afternoon M. Dubois will appear in a trumpet solo from Nessler.

The fire show, "Fighting the Flames," is running smoothly now. The 25 new supers have been thoroughly drilled, while the young woman who has been doing the leaping act from the fourth-story window has overcome all nervousness.

The afternoon programs follow:

DENIES THE WILL; EXPLAINS LINES

Mrs. Mickle Is Led Into a Trap by the Lawyer Prosecuting Murder Case.

WOMAN'S STORY OF TRAGEDY

Step by step Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., led Mrs. Annie J. Mickle into a trap when he attempted to show she had written a will found in her room after the tragedy, in which she acknowledged she could stand her life no longer, had killed her husband and committed suicide. The woman went on the witness stand to clear herself of the charge of murder, and nervously tried to ward off the relentless blows of the district attorney, who compelled her, against the efforts of her attorneys to warn her, to acknowledge she knew the construction of this note, by showing him and the jury just where four lines on the first page fitted into the writing on the next page. It was the dramatic ending of his efforts against her denial that she knew she had written this will.

Mrs. Mickle told how her husband had ill-treated her, once rendering her unconscious by a kick in the side when she was in a delicate condition, and threatened to kill her if she told the doctors what had happened; how he had placed cther over her nose and mouth and tried to kill her, and finally how he had beat her on the day of the trouble which led to his death and her alleged attempt to kill herself.

Married Mickle in Philadelphia.

She told of being married to Mickle in Philadelphia in 1902, how he brought her to Allegheny and engaged rooms with Mollie Carson, whose house she knew nothing of, and finally how she followed him to the street on the day before his death and told him she was going home.

"He started to beat me the next day," she testified. "I called the police and he procured his revolver and said, 'Now I am going to kill you.' This was after I had struck him on the head with a hammer I had taken from him. I started to struggle to get possession of the weapon, and he fell over a rocking chair, the revolver going off at the same time. My husband fell to the floor and I fell across his body in a faint. When I regained consciousness he was still on the floor, and I discovered he was dead. I then secured a bottle of wood alcohol he always used and drank some of it, again losing consciousness. I do not remember how long I remained so, but when I came to I drank all of the contents. I have no recollection of anything more until I came to my senses in the hospital."

Mrs. Mickle denied she told Detective W. W. Speer, who found her, that she wanted to die and had killed her husband.

Denied Making Any Confessions.

She also denied she had confessed to the matron, or had said to Superintendent of Police Glenn, who testified earlier in the day, when he asked her who had placed the revolver in her husband's hands:

"I must have done that, as nobody else was in the room."

Mrs. Mickle also denied making other confessions to the superintendent or that he had read over to her what he had written.

To Mrs. Annie Chapin's story that she came out of the room and cried: "O, my God, I've killed him—My God, I've killed him," she also entered a denial.

Mrs. Mary Madgett had previously testified that Mrs Mickle had visited her room and stated that her husband had tried to kill her and the revolver had gone off and killed him, how she did not know.

It was on cross-examination of the principal in this drama that District Attorney Robb made his great effort to show she had practically confessed to the deed in the will found.

Led on by Prosecuting Attorney.

After the witness had denied writing the paper to a friend in Philadelphia and Mr. Robb found he could not get her to say more than that if she had written it, she did not know it, as it must have been done after she took the wood alcohol, Mr. Robb had her write the name of the person it was addressed to, and she wrote "Allice," mis-spelling it as in the letter. She also mis-spelled other words found in the letter, and when Attorneys J. L. Ritchey and W. J. Jordan, her attorneys, objected to Mr. Robb trying to compel her to testify to things found therein unless he proved it was her letter, he led her, against their efforts, to acknowledge she was acquainted with the matter by showing him where certain lines fitted in, thus trying to show by this that she was perfectly conscious and knew what she was doing if she wrote the letter at all. It was the dramatic moment of the trial and the witness told the state what it wanted.

Mrs. Mickle told how her husband had used $325 of her money when they were married, and compelled her to take in washing, the earnings from which he also spent.

Denied Attempting Suicide.

She denied she had taken the wood alcohol with the intention of killing herself, but offered no explanation for drinking it. After her testimony court adjourned.

The commonwealth finished its testimony by introducing the confessions to the police matron at Central station, and one woman in the house where Mickle died, to the effect that Mrs. Mickle had acknowledged killing him and trying to end her own life.

The defense will try to show today how Mrs. Mickle was treated by her husband and prove she was in no condition to know what she was saying after drinking the alcohol, even if she did tell a number of different stories.

Newsies Fight Flames.

A large barn, owned by Robert C. Hall, on a farm back of Aspinwall, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening. Five boys from the Newsboys' Home, who are camping on the Hall farm, discovered the flames from their tents and ran to give aid. The lads are Jack Murray, Michael Maloy, Charles Lawzer, Arthur Bailey and Harry Rast. With buckets of water they climbed to the roof of adjoining outbuildings and prevented a spread of the blaze. The loss on stock is estimated at $1,000.

The Typewriter at Peace Conference.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The typewriter played a conspicuous part in the peace conference at Portsmouth. Six Remington typewriters with Russian, French and English keyboards were in constant use by the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries, and the final draft of the treaty for engrossing was prepared on these machines. This recalls the fact that the articles of peace between Spain and the United States and between the British and the Boers were also written on the Remington.

STATE BANK DEPOSITORS GET FORTY-TWO PER CENT

Auditors File Report and Say That Money Was Received Up to Time of Closing Doors, When Concern Was Insolvent.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Sept. 7.—The first report of the auditors of the defunct State bank of Pittsburgh, which was completed today, shows that they received by account filed $111,268 01 and from John P. Steel, receiver, $27,832 68, making a total amount for distribution of $138,100 69. The expenses of the audit thus far are $8,425. leaving the total balance for distribution $130,675 69. The dividend rate of distribution is fixed by the auditors at 42 per cent.

The report was taken to Pittsburgh tonight by the auditors, Leroy J. Wolfe and Albert Miller of Harrisburg and will be open for inspection tomorrow at the office of Miller & Reamer, 1221 Frick building.

The amount in the hands of the auditors will be distributed to the various funds as follows:

To the checking account claim of $138,-683 69 will be given $58,667 22. The saving account fund claim of $148,299 12 will get $62,705 79. The amount of the certificates of deposit claim is $18,844 and it will get $7,944 48. The certified checks claim of $5,305 25 will get $1,888 20. The amount of claims aggregate $811,132 08.

The auditors find that the bank received deposits on the morning of February 13, 1904, the day on which its doors were closed, but no testimony was offered to show at what time the bank became insolvent or that any of its officers knew of its insolvency.

From the testimony, as well as the books and papers offered in evidence, it is impossible to determine at what date the bank became insolvent. The report states that it is safe, however, to find that the bank was insolvent prior to the date of its suspension; that the money received as deposits up and until the doors of the bank were closed were mingled with the other moneys of the bank; and that no part or portion of the funds claimed as preferred were separated or individuated from the other funds of the bank.

PAY OVER $500,000 ON FILTRATION CONTRACTS

The Contractor's Estimates for August Aggregate $214,000. Filter Beds Being Roofed.

Director Bigelow yesterday approved estimates for work done on the filtration contracts, aggregating $24,410.26, for the month of August. The estimates were sent to the controller by the director and warrants will be issued today to pay the contractor, T. A. Gillespie.

The work done on the filtration plant to date aggregating $581,760.32. Of this amount 10 per cent is reserved by the city until the work is completed. The city has previously paid the contractor $309,164.47, and when the warrants for August are added, the total payments to date will amount to $523,584.23.

Supt. Morris Knowles said yesterday that filter bed No. 11 was now under roof. Each bed covers an acre of ground and is to be placed under a roof of concrete to keep the water from freezing during winter. Filter bed No. 12 is also in process of being roofed, and rapid progress is being made on the pumping station and the South Side main.

COUNCILS FIND WOOD GUILTY OF COWARDICE

Braddock Fire Chief Said to Have Neglected Duty When Woman and Children Were Burned.

Thomas Wood of the Braddock fire department was last night found guilty of neglect of duty and cowardice at a fire which burned the house of Louis Tagress July 25, in which Mrs. Tagress and their three children received burns from which all died later. Tagress filed charges before council last Monday night and mentioned Wood in the statement. Attorney Rody P. Marshall was retained by the firemen to defend Wood, and Attorney Harry M. Stein represented Tagress.

After three hours' examination of 30 witnesses of the fire and firemen, members of council retired and in half an hour rendered its verdict. It was shown that Wood climbed a ladder to the bedroom window where the children and Mrs. Tagress were sleeping in the burning house, but that he made no attempt to enter and rescue them. A few minutes afterwards he allowed Tagress to climb the ladder and enter the room, which was filled with smoke. Tagress, however, managed to find the children and his wife and carried them out of the burning building. Wood's defense was that the dense smoke in the room and his ignorance of the location of the beds where the family lay made it impossible for him to try to rescue them.

BOY SAYS DETECTIVES FORCED HIM TO CONFESS

Told Story of Killing Alexander Campbell in Order to Keep Out of Prison.

Baltimore & Ohio railroad detectives are guilty of gross injustice if the statements made yesterday by a 13-year-old boy before Coroner Joseph Armstrong are to be believed. The boy told the coroner that he had been induced by the detectives to confess to the killing of a passenger on a Baltimore & Ohio train on pain of imprisonment; the confession was to be the price of his liberty. The coroner was conducting the inquest into the death of Alexander Campbell of Charleston, W. Va. On the night of July 17, while on a train near McKeesport, he was struck on the head by a stone thrown through the car window.

Campbell was wealthy and had influential friends and the railroad detectives made strenuous efforts to run down the party who threw the stone. All of their efforts were apparently fruitless, however, until a few weeks ago, when George Toal, aged 13, of 1306 Railroad street, McKeesport, was said to have confessed to throwing the stone. Before the coroner yesterday, however, a different tale was told. "They told me if I confessed they would let me go, but if I didn't I would be sent to prison," said the boy. In order to gain his freedom he said he did as they suggested.

RESIDENCE IS ROBBED, BUT ARREST SOON FOLLOWS

John Mooney's house on Morningside road was entered yesterday afternoon while the family was absent, and robbed of a gold watch, valued at $50; two gold chains, worth $37; three razors, three shirt studs, valued at $18, a $12 chain purse, containing $2.78 and several other articles of value. Last night at 7 o'clock Peter Welsh arrested Alex. Mawhinney, who says he has no home, on Morningside avenue, on suspicion of having committed the robbery. He was very drunk, but had the stolen goods on him.

Horse Suffers for Three Weeks.

John Englebert, of Greentree avenue, Allegheny, pleaded guilty to a charge of cruelty to animals before Alderman Brinker yesterday and paid a fine of $10 and costs. It is alleged by Humane Agent Lightcap that Englebert had a horse standing in his stable for three weeks with three large holes in his side and a sore hoof, and during that time gave it no medical attention.

Football Claims Early Victim.

Thomas Arthers, aged 12, of Bell avenue, North Braddock, has the distinction of being the first victim of a football accident in Braddock during the present season. Yesterday afternoon while playing with a number of companions he was caught in a center rush and thrown to the ground, his right arm being fractured.

RAILROAD LABORERS ARE HELD AS PEONS

Startling Statement of George Cody Who Escaped from Virginia Railroad Camp.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—At the risk of his life George Cody says he escaped from a railroad camp in Virginia, where he and others were held practically in peonage. Armed guards, willing and apparently anxious to shoot, surrounded the shacks in which they lived, but he managed to crawl by them and to steal a ride on a freight train.

Cody, who has been a street car conductor, says he was out of work on July 21, and saw an advertisement calling for railroad men to go to Virginia for $2 a day. George G. David of the Interborough Employment Exchange, No. 35 Fifth street, told him to catch a certain train on the Jersey Central road.

"There were 117 of us in the train," Cody's statement runs. "Practically all of us expected work in the operating department of a completed road. When we reached Duncannon, Va., we were placed under armed guards, who told us their instructions were to shoot to kill if any one attempted to escape. Picks and shovels were placed in our hands and it was use them or stand the consequences. There were about 300 white men and negroes in the camp and all were fed and housed like pigs."

Mr. David, the employment agent, said today that Cody's story was the first he had heard about peonage. He had instructions from the Norfolk & Western railroad, he added, to employ laborers at $1.20 a day of ten hours and had sent 25 men away on July 21. All had known what they were to get. Only four had stayed there.

COUNTY FORCE ACTIVE WHERE POLICE ARE IDLE

Alleged Gambling Houses and Speakeasies in Pittsburgh Are Being Raided and Proprietors Held.

Because Supt. Alexander Wallace of the Pittsburgh police asserts that his policemen have no right to enter chartered clubs in the city, where gambling is indulged in and liquor sold illegally, the county detectives and private citizens have taken up the work.

Information was made yesterday before Aldermen Toole, against Cliff Ellis, James Molton and William Welsh, who were taken Wednesday night in the raid of the Commercial club, a colored organization at 145 Fulton street. The raid was made by County Detectives Merit, Murren and Kohen and Constable Joyce. It is charged that liquor was sold to any one who entered and had the price to pay for a drink. The men were held in $1,000 bail each for a hearing next Tuesday.

At the same time hearings will be given to R. C. Henry and James Bradberry, alleged owners of the Comus club in Homewood avenue, East End, raided by the county force last Sunday morning.

Alderman Brinker of the Twelfth ward, Allegheny, yesterday held Louis Bergman, Jacob Bergman and D. Polack in $1,000 bail each for a hearing tonight between 7 and 8 o'clock. They were arrested on an information made by Mrs. Julia Kanowits, who alleges the men run a gambling house and speakeasy at 53 Federal street, Pittsburgh. They are charged with running a gambling house and with selling liquor illegally and on Sunday.

FIFTY TO GRADUATE.

Seventh Annual Commencement of the Mt. Washington Public Schools Will Be Held Tonight.

An event of much interest in the Thirty-second ward is the seventh annual commencement of the Mt. Washington public schools, which will be held this evening at the Pentecostal church, Sycamore street, at 8 o'clock. The people of the Mount are very proud of their schools and attend the commencement in such numbers that the authorities are obliged to exclude children.

An interesting musical program will be furnished by former pupils, and addresses will be made to the people and to the class by the Rev. S. Edward Young of the Second Presbyterian church and Director Edward Rynsargon of the Pittsburgh High schools. The graduating class numbers 56, all of whom passed a creditable examination for admission to the Central High school. They were trained by Miss Ursula B. Reis and Miss Maud E. Milholland. The honor pupils are Marjorie Coleman, Louisa Muhl, Gertrude Meyers, Helen Schroth, William Mulhern and Pauline St. Peter. The diplomas will be presented by A. G. Smith, president of the school board.

CRABAPPLES BOIL OVER, BADLY SCALDNG WOMAN

Mrs. John McKnight of Walnut street, Homestead, was severely burned by crab apple preserves which boiled over from a kettle in which they were cooking yesterday afternoon. Both her hands and her arms were scalded.

"Little Johnny Jones."

With an equipment of two baggage cars, two day coaches and a special service engine, the George M. Cohan company, which is to present "Little Johnny Jones" at the Nixon next week, will arrive in Pittsburgh on a chartered train over the Pennsylvania railroad Sunday afternoon from Youngstown, where they give two performances of this funny play tomorrow. The Pittsburgh engagement of "Little Johnny Jones" bids fair to prove a red-letter one in the history of the Nixon, for the fame of this play has preceded it.

No Fair, No Firemen!

The Verona volunteer fire department has become disorganized because the council of that borough has refused to give the firemen a free permit to conduct a street fair. Council declares that the borough should be paid for the use of its streets for any money-making enterprise, while the firemen contend that their services entitled them to having an exception made. The organization is seven years old, and is now practically disbanded.

Pittsburgh Editor Honored.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 7.—W. R. Rose of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, was today elected president of the National Press Humorists' association; Arthur G. Burgoyne of the Pittsburgh Leader, vice president, and Thomas F. Daly of the Philadelphia Press, secretary and treasurer. Seventeen other officers were filled by the election of the 17 other members present. The next meeting will be held in Philadelphia.

OFFICIALS DROP THE METER FIGHT

Controller Larkin Says That Public Works Director Bigelow Is Now on the Fence.

TRUCE DURING THE CAMPAIGN

Seeing that a continuance of the meter agitation might be injurious politically to the administration and the Citizens party in the coming county election, Director Bigelow and Controller Larkin have agreed to suspend hostilities and the controller dismisses the matter with a formal statement that "Mr. Bigelow is trying to find out what the people want, and will then meet their views."

In other words, the controller says the director is "on the fence," and the director must assume this attitude to keep peace with the controller. The controller says "we have had no quarrel" and creates the impression that he has converted Director Bigelow partially to his way of thinking, while on the other hand the controller makes a concession by modifying his views concerning the cost of water measured by meters. He says now that he never claimed that meters would increase the cost, but tended to cause filth. The controller's statement is a sort of give and take proposition, like the Japanese-Russian treaty at Portsmouth, with the controller giving himself a little the best of it.

"I have never at any time said that meters increased the cost of water," says the controller. "The cost of a commodity depends on the price charged for any given unit of measure. My claim has been that the sale of water by measure restricted its use and tended to induce filth. The purpose, however, is to have the requirements of the ordinance followed so that the money voted for the purpose of 'supply, filtration, distribution and measurement' should be used in the order proposed, and as the necessity of the requirements seems paramount.

"It would seem ridiculous, independent of the reading of the ordinance, to complete and pay for arrangements to measure water that possibly could not be distributed for want of money when the main requisites are, 'supply, filtration and distribution.'

"People want water first, and they have the money in the treasury to pay for it, while the measure of it may be safely left to them afterward. I have heard of several meetings where water was demanded, but have not heard of any anywhere demanding meters. I had a pleasant chat with Mr. Bigelow yesterday, and understood from him that he is trying to find out just what the people do want and will then meet their views. We have no quarrel and won't have any in present mood and I have always felt that when these public questions can be adjusted in a proper spirit, the wants of the people are more promptly facilitated."

GREAT OIL STRIKE MADE IN NEW STATE OF ALBERTA

Eight Thousand-Barrel Producer Brought in in Great Northwest Field.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WINNIPEG, MAN., Sept. 7.—Word came in today from Pincher Creek, Alberta, that the Rocky Mountain Development Company had struck a well with a daily capacity of 8,000 barrels.

When the strike was made the tools were thrown from the well. Oil spouted 50 feet above the derrick. The well is located 42 miles southwest of here and about five miles north of the Montana boundary.

The Rocky Mountain Company has been in existence for three years, but has been working very quietly. The country is rough and much difficulty was encountered getting in machinery. The company has struck a number of small wells before, some running as much as a thousand barrels a day. The new strike is in a much deeper sand. Experts from the California field say the product is of the highest quality. The big flow was struck at a depth of 1,400 feet. The town of Oil City has already sprung up in the vicinity of the well. Surveyors are running lines to connect a branch with the Great Northern railroad.

Charge Against Men in the Employ of the B. & O.

W. E. Long and C. W. Seimaniel were sent to jail yesterday in default of $500 bail by Alderman McMasters on an information charging them with conspiracy. The arrest was made by Detective Thomas Delahanty of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. It is alleged the men added to the payroll of the Baltimore & Ohio company the names of Antonio Lagova, Antonio Lasaba and Angelo Marcerva and collected their pay, amounting to $28 80. It was afterward discovered that none of the men were employed by the company.

An additional information was made by Delahanty against Long charging him with larceny. It is alleged he stole a pay check for $40 86, the property of Antonio Kasaba. The men will be given a hearing by Alderman McMasters tomorrow.

DR. STRONG LOWERS THE BRUNOTS ISLAND TRACK RECORD

GREAT SPORT AT INTER-CITY MEET

Pittsburgh Wins Greater Number of Events, but Cleveland Captures Free-for-All Trot.

SPLENDID CARD FOR TODAY

Good weather, good track and good crowds greeted lovers of light harness racing on the first of the Matinee club's two days' inter-city meet at the Brunots Island track. Fully 5,000 passed the gates. The throng was made up of the smartly gowned maid and matron and horsey escort down to the old sport who would have swum the Ohio river to get there if there was no other way.

But it was not necessary yesterday for the transportation facilities were everything that could be desired and these conditions, together with the splendid card of today, will bring even a larger attendance than that of yesterday.

In the division of ribbons and cups Pittsburgh led with three wins and two horses each with a heat in another event. Cleveland captured two races and Memphis one. Chicago and Boston failed to land a cup.

The race of the day, was the free-for-all trot won by C. K. G. Billings' Prince of Orange went the fastest mile of the day in a race—2:09. Mr. Billings, who will not arrive till this morning, put up his friend, Harry K. Devereaux, considered the best amateur reinsman in the country, and he displayed superb horsemanship in piloting his entry to victory. R. H. Boggs' Robin C. won the first heat, Prince of Orange getting no closer than fourth at the wire. In the second heat Prince of Orange wore down Robin C. in the drive home and won on the end by half a length. In the third attempt he went even better and placed the heat and race to his credit in the fast time for the rather deep track, in 2:09.

The absence of Dr. Strong in the free-for-all was more of it. Mr. Dick Pickering, however, did not disappoint the crowd, who wanted to see the gray streak perform, and Mr. Callery drove him an exhibition mile in 2:08. He was accompanied by a pacemaker, the running horse The Prompter, driven by Thos. G. McDonald, Dr. Strong's trainer. He failed in the attempt. After scoring to the half in 1:05¼ he went into a break at the draw gate, finishing the mile in 2:14½. He has done the same thing several times at this very spot and it looks as if the crowd which surges on the track at this point annoys him. In the second attempt he reeled off the quarters in :33, 1:04½ and 1:36¼, the mile in 2:08 flat, and got a big ovation. The record held by Sadie Mac of 2:08½ had been lowered.

The first event was the 2:21 trot. After the blue pencil had removed five it left six to go. Wilderness, after leading the whole journey with Raymond B. close up, looked to have just lasted, but the judges placed St. Valient Vincent, which came on the end with a rare rattle, first. There was nothing to it in the second and third heats but Boggs' Insulator, a green 5-year-old brought to Pittsburgh by O. Elseman. This was the first time he was turned in a race. Insulator is a half brother to Anglola, which won on Tuesday the $10,000 Charter Oak at Hartford. To the amazement of the spectators the judges placed Prioress second in the third heat. Raymond B. got the place by a wide margin.

In the 2:15 pace the judges sent them away to a straggling start. Miss Georgia tow-roped the field to the half and then went into a break all by herself. The race turned out to be a very easy thing for J. R. McCune's Ben Gee, who came away as he pleased in both heats and won under wraps. The erratic Miss Georgia was the class of the race and the way she mowed down her horses when settled shows her to be one of the very fast pacers.

In the 2:12 trot J. W. Barnes' Joe N. had easy sailing after Evelyn Byrd, who beat him at Chicago, insisted on breaking. The black gelding made it a length over the Baroness at the quarter in the first heat, increased it to three lengths at the half and was never after fully extended, winning by several lengths. It was a buggy ride for Mr. Callery. It was a battle royal between the Baroness and The Quester for the place, the former getting the decision by a nose. In the second heat the Baroness led Joe N. at the quarter by half a length. They were head and head at the half, but at the draw gate Joe N. went into the lead and won by a length. This time The Quester nosed out the Baroness under the wire for the place.

In the first heat of the free-for-all trot Uncle William, after leading Robin C. to the three-quarter pole, looked like a winner when he went into a bad break. Robin C. jumped into the lead and got to the wire by half a length in front of Louise Mac, which came like a shot through the stretch and would have won in a few more strides. The judges set Louise Mac back for cutting off Prince of Orange at the first turn. Mr. Devereaux did not try with Prince of Orange after that and finished far back. In the second heat Robin C. took a commanding lead over Prince of Orange, at the quarter being 10 lengths to the good. Going through the second quarter Prince of Orange moved up very fast and was at Robin C.'s wheel squared for home. Mr. Devereaux lifted the Prince home in front by half a length. Robin C. had only a small margin over Louise Mac, which came again with a rare rattle.

Prince of Orange and Robin C. were lapped to the half with daylight in front of Uncle William. Louise Mac had gone into a hopeless break at the half and was out of it. The Prince took the lead turning for home, where it was seen that lack of work had told on Robin C., and he dropped back beaten. Orange won by two lengths from Uncle William, who was eight lengths in front of Louise Mac.

The 2:09 pace furnished the comedy of the afternoon, for Dutch Mowrey's rat-tail, provoked much merriment. Hal C. had the pace of the party, and won in straight heats. Dutch Mowrey had the crowd with him when he nosed out Tilly Saal in both heats under the wire for the place. No Pittsburgh horses were engaged in this event.

H. Buhl, Jr.'s, Ramona looked like the winner to the 2:17 trot, but was nipped at the wire by F. G. Jones' Frank A. Mc-Cready's Zulma captured the second heat from Frank A. by a length, but the Memphis horse turned the tables on her in the third heat and won the heat and race from her by a length.

After the free-for-all trot the best race of the day was the 2:05 pace, in which Billings' Angus Pointer (2:04½), Whitcomb's Terrace Queen (2:06) and Haas' Sufreet (2:05¼) turned. Terrace Queen opened up a gap of eight lengths at the quarter over Sufreet, but Angus Pointer cut the lead down to a length at the half, showed in front at the three-quarter pole, and was rushed off his feet into a break. The race was won by two lengths from Sufreet, but was set back for cutting off Angus Pointer at the first turn. It was a questionable decision. Terrace Queen led by four lengths at the quarter in the second heat, Angus Pointer going into breaks at the half and at the draw gate. Sufreet had a lead of half a length, but broke at the wire. This left the race unfinished, with Terrace Queen and Sufreet each with a heat. The summaries:

HAMBURG BELLE WINS THE FLIGHT STAKES

Is Warm Favorite in Betting and Almost Duplicates Her Victory of Last Year.

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Hamburg Belle, the 2 to 5 favorite, won the Flight stakes at Sheepshead bay today, duplicating her victory of last year in the same stakes. Yankee Consul, Roseben and New Mown Hay were withdrawn early in the day, leaving the Hildreth entry, Burleigh and Rapid Water, and Lady Amelia to measure strides with the Paget family. Hamburg Belle was played heavily at the short price. Lady Amelia jumped away in front and led to the elbow with Burleigh in second position and Hamburg Belle third. Davis pulled out and came upon the outside of his field where the Paget filly took the lead and won easily.

GIANTS' DEFEAT SPURS PIRATES

Clarke's Crew Make Merry at the Expense of Reds' Pitchers Who Were Batted Hard

LIEFIELD BADLY BUMPED

Spurred on by the knowledge that the Giants had been beaten in their opening game of a double-header with Boston, the Pirates set to work with a will yesterday afternoon and fairly wiped up the field with the Cincinnati Reds, beating that team out 11 to 7 in the opening game of the series. There was a turnout of 5,000 to watch the game and when the score was posted announcing the defeat of the Giants a mighty cheer went up.

In view of the exhibition put up by the Reds yesterday it is no wonder that the McGrawites had so little trouble taking a dozen-straight games from that team. The exhibition of the Reds was about the most headless that has been seen here this season. The team seems to lack the first principle of ball playing and all the majority of players here seem to think of is how many hits they can make without any regard for what becomes of them after they get on the bases. There is a lack of "ginger" and a general go as you please about their play.

Manager Kelley, who has been out of the game for some days, rejoined his players yesterday and even his presence did not seem to help along any. Kelley presented as his pitcher big Orval Overall, who got such a pounding in three innings that he was glad to scrape up an excuse of fussing with the umpire to escape the lambasting that he was in for. This happened in the Pirates' half of the fourth inning when Overall nearly tore a hand off Homer Hillebrand with a swift pitched ball, and the umpire allowed the batsman to walk to first base. The Reds made a vigorous kick on the ruling, claiming that Hillebrand had not been hit, and as Overall refused to be quieted he was ousted from the game, Walker taking his place.

At the time of Overall's expulsion the Pirates had already secured two runs in the opening inning and had touched the big fellow up for one hit in the second, two in the third and there were two on bases when he balked, both having secured hits. Walker had no chance to warm up and he could only lob the ball over the plate so that he was touched up rather lively. Walker did not prove much better than the pitching line that his predecessor and his delivery was pounded to all parts of the field.

"Lefty" Liefield made his initial appearance as a Pirate on the home grounds and it cannot be said that his debut was a glittering success. Liefield is a big fellow, built on the same lines as Phillippe and looks all right from a pitching standpoint, as he is steady at all times and has speed to burn. His main breaking curve which will stand him well if he can keep it under proper control. He can also do a fine line of batting, as is shown by the fact that he had two hits yesterday, a single and a three-bagger, the latter a beautiful drive to left center far out of the reach of the fielders.

Liefield got a bad start yesterday as the Reds got one run with the first pass in the opening inning on four hits, three of which were the luckiest two-baggers seen here this season. One of the hits was by Kelley, which Clarke just managed to get his hands on but could not hold the ball. Had he been able to hold the sphere there would have been an easy double play and only one run. Outfielder Lush's error in Base, but in the third inning Injured his hand and was forced to retire, Hillebrand taking his place and playing the base in fine style.

The Reds were the first to score, getting three runs in the opening inning on two-baggers by Harry, Kelley, Seymour and a single by Steinfeldt. The Pirates got two of the runs back in their half of the first on singles by Ganley and Clarke, a sacrifice by Leach, a passed ball and an out at first. The Pirates threw away chances for runs in the second by bad baserunning when a single by Ganley and a three-bagger by Leach were wasted. The locals went into the lead in their half of the fourth when three runs were scored as the result of three singles and a batsman being hit by the pitcher.

In the fifth the locals kept up their good work by scoring two runs on a three-bagger by Wagner, a base on balls and singles by Hillebrand and Peitz. Three more were added in the sixth as a result of a three-base hit by Liefield, an error by Huggins, a single by Clarke and a long fly to Kelley. The final run was scored in the eighth on a single by Clarke, a sacrifice by Leach and a two-bagger by Wagner. This made three hits for Wagner, a single, double and a three-base hit, and singularly enough his opponent for the league lead, Seymour, had exactly the same record in the game.

The Reds did not score after the first until their half of the eighth, when, with one out, Seymour singled and scored on a two-base drive to left by Steinfeldt. In the ninth the visitors again got after Liefield's curves and he was given a merry pounding. Schei started things going with a single and Street, who was sent in to bat for Walker, also made a single. Huggins and Barry went out in order but Kelley counted when Seymour laced the ball to right for three bases. Corcoran ended the game by going out on a fine fly to Hillebrand. The score:

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—In today's doubleheader with the Boston team the local leaders in the pennant race broke even, each side scoring a shutout on the other. Boston's run which won the first game was the outcome of an error. Mathewson's good box work held the visitors safely in the second contest. The scores:

WILLIAMSPORT NOW LEADS TRI-STATE LEAGUE RACE

Goes Into First Place by Defeating York—Lush Pitched His Second Game.

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

WILLIAMSPORT, Sept. 7.—Over 4,000 people saw Williamsport push York out of first place in the Tri-State league by winning today's game. Matthews was hit hard and consecutively. In the ninth Lush, who was pitching his second consecutive game against York, eased up and four runs were scored before the last man was retired. Owens was removed from the game in the third inning for his foul language to Umpire Braubly, and Smith went the same route in the fourth. The score:

ADOPTING NEW BAGGAGE CHECK

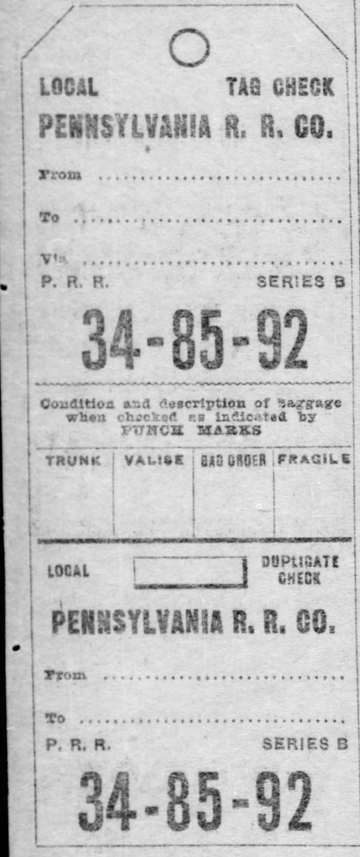
Pennsylvania Railroad to Use "Universal," Patented by Two Pittsburghers.

CASH PAYMENT IS NOT LIKED

Commencing September 15 the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will place in use east of Pittsburgh and Erie a new baggage check, known as the "Universal," which was patented by G. W. Conrad, joint baggage agent of the Pennsylvania system in Pittsburgh, and W. J. Fitler, his chief clerk. The check form is shown herewith, the only material difference being that the check will be of tough manila cardboard and the hyphenated numbers will be printed in red.

This new form of check has attracted the attention of railroad men all over the country, and Messrs. Conrad and Fitler have received letters of a highly commendatory nature from the general baggage agents of almost all of the big lines. Its being adopted for use on the Pennsylvania railroad will probably be followed by its adoption on other roads in the near future.

The check is shown entire in the accompanying form, the back side being plain on both portions of the check—the tag check or stub, which is attached to the baggage and the duplicate portion, which is given to the person checking the baggage. The object of the hyphenated number is that the figures may be read quickly and accurately, and thus "crosses" in the delivery of baggage may be avoided. These "crosses," in which the baggage belonging to one person is sometimes mistakenly given to another by the hasty reading of a closely jumbled lot of figures, usually five of six, are the bugbear of the baggage department.



New Baggage Check Adopted by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Another trouble that is experienced in the department is the claim at destination of damage having been done to baggage that has been received in bad shape at the time of checking. This phase of trouble is designed to be avoided in the upper portion of the duplicate stub, the bad condition being noted by a punch in the space made for this purpose. In the same portion of the duplicate check, when it is handed to the delivering baggage agent, may be noted at a glance whether the baggage is a trunk or valise, this information being furnished by a "PC" punch mark placed there by the receiving office. When fibre cases or other fragile articles of baggage are presented the space "fragile" will be punched by the receiving agent. This will save the necessity of taking releases from patrons, excepting in cases where the baggage is in very bad order and there is danger of the contents falling out or becoming lost in transit. When cancelling at the "bad order" space the agent will call the attention of the passenger to this so that there will be no dispute at destination.

The routing feature of the check is simple, and in fact the simplicity of the check throughout, covering the features above noted, is the point of interest in it. It will be not only an improvement over the old method of using brass checks for the railroad company, but will also be an improvement for the traveling public.

B. & O. Authorizes Improvements.

The directors of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, in their recent authorization for an expenditure of $7,000,000 in reconstruction, have not overlooked Pittsburgh, in which city about $700,000 will be spent, about half of which will go toward making improvements in the Glenwood shop and yard plant and the remainder in minor improvements in this immediate district. About $1,750,000 has been authorized for the new line and double track work on the New Castle division, west of Akron, which was noted in this column Wednesday morning. A new line will be built in the 11 miles between Sullivan and Lodi to eliminate grades and curves, and the road will be double tracked from Nova to Sullivan. This will complete the double track line between Pittsburgh and Hamler, O., on the Chicago division. A new bridge will be built at the mouth of the Cuyahoga river at Cleveland at a cost of $180,000, and $150,000 will be spent for increasing the power facilities at Lorain. Between Fairmont and Rivesville a new location of the line will be made, and a new bridge will be built over the Monongahela river at dam No. 15, these two items costing $350,000.

Big Baggage Increase in August.

According to the monthly report of Joint Baggage Agent G. W. Conrad of the Pennsylvania system at the Union station, this city, the baggage handled in August of this year consisted of 20,248 pieces more than was handled in August last year. The July increase over the same month of last year was 7,744 pieces. August's total was 167,790 pieces handled, 73,590 received and 94,890 forwarded. September's report will probably show about an equal number of pieces received and forwarded. The baggage of the returning vacationists will be about equalled by the additional outbound baggage of students to the colleges. The Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Wabash systems also show large increases in baggage handled in August. These increases go far toward showing the increase of passenger travel, which was the heaviest in August of any month in railroading history.

Pennsylvania Lines Promotions.

Following the appointment of C. L. Barnaby, assistant engineer maintenance of way of the Pennsylvania lines' Chicago Terminal division, as engineer maintenance of way of the southern division of the Grand Rapids & Indiana, Assistant Engineer Guy Scott of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division is transferred to the place vacated by Mr. Barnaby. Assistant Engineer E. A. McCue, of the Richmond division, is named for the place vacated by Mr. Scott. W. A. Hawley of the engineering corps of the eastern division is appointed assistant engineer of the Richmond division. W. L. Elkin, of the engineering corps of the Pittsburgh division is appointed assistant engineer of the Michigan division of the Vandalia railroad. It is rumored that J. O. Crockett, former superintendent of the Logansport division of the Vandalia, will become superintendent of the Evansville & Terre Haute, succeeding J. S. Douglass.

Say Pay Car Isn't Liked.

It is said that many of the employes of the Pennsylvania railroad, as well as the officers and clerks who have to look after the making up of lists and pay envelopes, do not like the system of paying wages in cash. They prefer, it is said, the check method of payment, and it is reported that the Pennsylvania's experiment of cash payments will likely result in nothing but the wisdom of a better thing in the check payment. The trouble experienced by the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern in the forcing of checks is now remedied by having the checks made on safety paper.

To Move Commissary Department.

It was announced yesterday that the commissary department of the Pennsylvania system at St. Louis will be removed to Columbus on October 1, and that the headquarters of the dining-car department of the Pennsylvania lines west, including the offices of Superintendent of Dining Service E. W. Westlake, will be removed to Columbus about October 15. This will centralize the whole commissary department at Columbus.

Alter Is Appointed Yardmaster.

Frank A. Alter, the well-known agent of the River division of the Pennsylvania railroad at New Kensington, has been appointed yardmaster of the company at that point. While the yards there are not extensive there are several industries that turn out a good tonnage and a yardmaster's duties are not meager. Mr. Alter retains his duties as agent.

Railroad Notes.

The annual meeting of the Norfolk & Western railway will be held at Philadelphia today.

Edward L. Calhoun, chief clerk to Frank R. Eshelman, manager of the advertising bureau of the Pennsylvania lines west, is enjoying a vacation, a portion of which will be spent at Columbus.

General Superintendent J. B. Yohe and Chief Engineer J. A. Atwood made an inspection of the southern division of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yesterday in company with Superintendent J. W. Riley.

A joint meeting of the Pittsburgh, Wheeling, Youngstown, Buffalo and Cleveland freight committee was held at the latter city yesterday, the Pittsburgh committee being represented by a number of the local traffic men.

Howard Whitesell, formerly a clerk with the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company at Vandergrift, has taken service as a clerk in the office of the West Penn division of the Pennsylvania at Saline, where his father, J. E. Whitesell, has been agent for many years.

Leo A. Garber of Roaring Spring, Pa., extra agent of the middle division of the Pennsylvania, has gone east to enjoy a vacation at New York, Coney Island and Philadelphia. On his return he will make a visit to Pittsburgh to call on the soliciting agents of the local and foreign lines.

Fred H. Tristram, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash system, left last night on a business trip to Chicago and Portland. He will be absent about 10 days and will probably attend a session or two of the convention of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents, of which he is one of the oldest and most loyal members.

John R. Pott, district passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, is booking passengers already for the new tourist sleeping car service that will be installed by his road from Chicago to Los Angeles, leaving Chicago at 5:45 p. m., daily, and going via Omaha, Salt Lake and the new San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake line. He says the new line and service will attract many patrons from this vicinity.

ONLY HALF DOZEN WARDS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED

Work of Tabulating Registers' Returns in Philadelphia Goes Very Slowly.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Though the assessors today filed their reports with the county commissioners less than a half dozen wards have been fully tabulated. The result will not be known until tomorrow.

Thomas R. White, counsel for the City party and the Committee of Seventy, estimates the loss at 50,000, but this is pronounced absurd by the Republican party managers. It is announced that, as soon as the reports are printed, the police will be ordered to make another canvass; one will also be made by the City party and another under the auspices of the Committee of Seventy.

The wards on which complete returns have been made show these losses: Fifth, 1,049; Tenth, 1,400; Thirteenth, 3,600; The Twenty-sixth ward shows a gain of 450 voters. Samuel Maloney is the Republican leader of the Fifth ward; Senator James P. McNichol of the Tenth, and Sheriff James L. Miles of the Thirteenth.

Franklin Brewer, chairman of the City party, has tendered his resignation, which will be acted on tomorrow. Publication of the fact that he holds the position of superintendent of John Wanamaker's store is believed to have caused his resignation.

SOCIETY

JUST one year ago yesterday Miss Alberta Rose Youngson became the wife of the Rev. John Edward Martin of New York city. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are once again in Pittsburgh, the former having returned to officiate and the latter to act as matron of honor at the wedding of Mrs. Martin's brother, John Graff Youngson, and Miss Minnie Eva Patterson. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd Patterson, in Winfield street, East End, the Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant, pastor of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church, being assisted by the Rev. Mr. Martin, officiating. In addition to Mrs. Martin the bridal party included little Miss Jane Patterson, the bride's sister, as flower girl; Master Edward Hasler as ribbon bearer and Wesley Wilson Crawford as best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisitely dainty gown of duchesse satin with lace trimmings. Her tulle veil fell in soft folds to the end of the long train. The bridegroom's gift, a diamond pendant, was her only ornament and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Martin wore her wedding gown of white chiffon cloth, and carried a cluster of maidenhair ferns and white roses. Little Miss Patterson was in white embroidery and her flowers were sweet alyssum, showered with white rosebuds. The house was very simply decorated in green and white, smilax hanging in the doorways and over the curtains, while palms and ferns softened the outlines of the rooms, banked the mantels and served as a background for the bridal party. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Youngson will receive their friends at Maryland and Fifth avenues, days after October 1, having been announced. The bridegroom is prominently connected with the Homestead steel works.

Dodds-Nelson.

A wedding that will interest Pittsburghers took place in the First Presbyterian church, Lansing, Mich., on Wednesday, the bride being Miss Margaret Dodds, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dodds of Lansing, and the bridegroom, John E. Nelson of Pittsburgh. The Rev. Dr. Mitchell of Lansing officiated. Miss Elizabeth Dodds, a sister, acted as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Cooley of Lansing and Miss Gene Mitchell of Lafayette, Ind., while as best man and ushers there were Norman McClave of Grand Rapids, Mich., formerly of this city, Frank Cooley, Frank H. Bement, Carl H. Smith and L. H. Smith. The bride was at one time a student at the Pennsylvania College for Women in this city, and later was graduated from the University of Michigan, where she is a member of the Gamma Phi Sorority. Mr. Nelson is a Westminster college graduate, class of 1900, and is a secretary to A. W. Mellon.

Boyce-Mutzig.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Bessie Boyce and Heppell B. Mutzig was celebrated this evening at the home of Misses Mary and Sue Porter, aunts of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. E. Siemmons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Kathryn McFarland. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served. The couple left for Bend Ogn, where they will reside. The bride is a graduate of the Washington seminary class of 1903. Mr. Mutzig is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mutzig of Wilkinsburg, and is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college in the class of 1902.

BEAVER, PA., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—About 100 guests from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Homestead were here tonight to attend the wedding of Miss Sue Bullock, daughter of Mrs. W. S. Harry Walker Vincent of Homestead. Miss Harriet Slocum of Montclair, N. J., was bridesmaid and George Marshall of Homestead was best man. After the ceremony a course luncheon was served. The couple left for an extended tour of the Great Lakes and Canada.

The bride is a daughter of the late Alexander McK. Lea of Dallas and a granddaughter of Col. Albert Lea, for whom the town Albertica, south of Minneapolis, is named. She is a graduate of the University of Nashville and a post-graduate of Chicago university. Mr. Barker, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Barker of Hazelwood, is a graduate and post-graduate of the latter university. The couple will reside in Chicago.

Fall Wedding to Terminate Engagement.

The engagement of Miss Frances Fulton McMasters and John Black Sirich, which was announced early last winter, will terminate in their marriage in the Presbyterian church, Ridgeway Park, Pa., on Wednesday, September 20. Mr. Sirich is connected with the Union Fire Insurance Company in this city, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sirich of Baltimore, Md. He and his bride will be at home in Wilkinsburg after November 1.

Among the Clubs.

Will Enforce Game and Bird Laws.

The Burroughs Club of Western Pennsylvania has undertaken the enforcement of the bird and game laws in western Pennsylvania. Its president, Leon C. Brumbaugh, has been appointed special deputy game protector for the commonwealth, to serve without compensation or reimbursement of expenses. Many violations of the law have already been prosecuted and known violations should be reported, together with witnesses, to the president of the club in Wilkinsburg, who will, when requested, maintain secrecy as to the informant. The Burroughs club is also printing the bird and game laws for distribution in the schools. Other educational literature in the form of leaflets will be published for the use of the schools. If sufficient funds are received literature in the Italian and Hungarian languages will be printed. Money is now being solicited for this purpose and should be sent to the secretary, Miss Mary H. Gibson, Wilkinsburg. All those interested in wild life are invited to join a field excursion tomorrow afternoon at Beulah park on the Verona street car line. Special attention will be paid to the migratory birds and insects and the autumn flowers and fruits. Cars will leave Penn and Center avenues, Wilkinsburg, at 1:40 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Pioneers' Daughters Go to Country.

The Keystone chapter of the Daughters of American Pioneers will hold its first meeting of the fall on Monday at the home of Mrs. Minnie Gurey Roberts at Carlin Station, near Crafton. The regent, Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, is home, having returned to Pittsburgh with Mrs. Alfred E. Clarke a week ago, after spending almost six months traveling in Japan and China. The meeting will be especially interesting because of their home-coming and being the first meeting of the season it will be a reunion of the Daughters, who have been scattered in different parts of the country during the summer. The program will comprise several papers by different women and will commence at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Roberts directs the Daughters to take either a Carnegie or Crafton car and get off at Carlin Station.

FOREMAN FACES CHARGE OF CRIMINAL NEGLECT

Arrest Follows Collapse of New York Building Which Kills Two People in Its Fall.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Two persons were killed, one of them a girl 16-years old, when a building at Grand and Mott streets collapsed today. The building is said to have been condemned two years ago, but had been permitted to be occupied since. Thomas McGovern, a foreman in the building department, is under arrest in connection with the collapse, on a charge of criminal negligence.

The dead are:

MARIA GARIOSO, 16 years old.
JOSEPH FARINIA, 48 years old.

Nearly a score of persons were injured, some suffering from broken limbs.

A policeman noticed a big crack in one of the walls of the building, which was occupied for various business purposes. He gave the alarm and ordered everyone out of the structure. The Garioso girl was passing the building when the collapse came, and she was almost instantly killed. Farinia had returned to the building to get some of his belongings and was caught by the falling walls, being dead when taken out.

The injured persons include several policemen, firemen and tenants of the building who had declined to leave at the first alarm.

VICTIMS OF VICIOUS DOG.

Three Homestead Children Bitten, Two Hurt by Falls and One Burned by Taffy.

Homestead children were particularly unfortunate yesterday, a variety of causes contributing to their injuries. A vicious dog was responsible for mishaps to three all being badly bitten. They were Clyde Dodge, aged 8, of Sixth avenue, who was bitten in the leg; Philip McAmelty, aged 10, whose arm and body were lacerated, and Earl Wilson, aged 9, who was bitten on the legs.

In addition to these John Pyers, aged 2, fell from a stepladder in the yard of his home at 519 Fourteenth avenue, breaking his right arm; William Murray, aged 3, who fell from a porch at his home in Ann street, breaking his right arm, and Annie Meryter, aged 11, 7 Fourth avenue, whose hands were badly burned by taffy which boiled out of a pan.

MAY REOPEN CRUSADE.

Further Action Against Alleged Allegheny Grafters Is Rumored.

It was reported yesterday that another crusade against alleged Allegheny grafters would be inaugurated next week and that Amos A. Dacheuth, who had been silently at work for the past two months, had secured sufficient evidence to bring forth sensational arrests and disclosures.

Attorney John Marron refused to discuss the purpose of the visit of the Rev. Dr. D. A. McClanahan of the Allegheny Federation of Churches, when asked its purpose yesterday. Dr. McClanahan is chairman of the executive committee of that organization.

BEACON LIGHT EXPLODES, AND HOME IS IN RUINS

Had Been Placed in Window to Guide Home Woman Returning from Sick Mother.

A lamp placed in the window of William Hemme's home, Bryn Mawr, to act as a beacon light for his wife who had been visiting her sick mother, exploded early yesterday morning and set fire to the house. Hemme, who was alone in the building at the time, had a narrow escape from being burned to death and got through smoke and flames to the street with difficulty.

There were but four buckets of water available with which to fight the fire and after these were used up further efforts to save it were abandoned. Mrs. Hemme went to the home of her mother in McKeesport early in the day with the understanding that if her mother was able to be left alone she would return during the night. The husband, after waiting until a late hour for her return, retired and left the lamp in the window to light her way to the door. Hemme was awakened from a sound slumber by the noise of the flames. In less than an hour the building was a ruin. All the contents of the building were burned with it.

COLLEGE YELLS AT LUNA.

Graduates of Old Cornell Gather at Pleasure Resort and Cheer Band of Alma Mater.

Cornell men took possession of Luna park last evening, and made the welkin ring with old college songs. They turned out about 100 strong out of compliment to "Patsy" Conway, their old professor of music at Cornell, and the Ithaca band, many members of which are graduates of Cornell. The Cornell men arrived early and stayed late. Occupying seats that had been reserved for them immediately in front of the band stand, they flew the college colors of the alma mater, and sang the good old songs with a zest that only a college man can produce. After each piece was sung they gave the college yell which many a night has aroused the city of Ithaca.

While the Cornell men had possession of the park, the Daughters of the Eastern Star had possession of the dancing pavilion, and spent the evening with their friends. The pavilion was well-filled.

Avoid Alum Baking Powders

"I am very strongly of the opinion that the use of alum and salts of alumina in food should be prohibited. It is well understood that the constant use of alum compounds exerts both a deleterious effect upon the digestive organs and an irritation of the internal organs after absorption."

EDWARD S. WOOD, M.D., Professor of Chemistry, Harvard Medical School, Boston.

It must be remembered that when alum baking powders are used in making bread, biscuit or cake, a portion of the alum is carried unchanged into the stomach.

Ten-cent, twenty-five-cent, cent-an-ounce powders contain alum.

MONEY RATES ADVANCED AND STOCKS DECLINED

Bank of England Rate Also Raised—Trading Was Less Active, and There Was a Partial Recovery from the Lowest Prices.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market was almost entirely dominated by the money market yesterday. Before the hour for beginning operations in Wall street the cables from London reported that the minimum rate of discount of the Bank of England had been raised from 2½ to 3 per cent. Foreign securities were heavy in tone, and London was a seller of American securities. Later in the day there was some recovery from the extreme low prices, but the close was at fractional declines. Trading was less active, the total sales slightly exceeding 900,000 shares.

The opening of the stock market was extremely weak, and during the first half hour prices declined below the lowest level of Wednesday. At about the same time call loan rates advanced to 4 per cent, but supporting orders came into the market and a moderate rally took place. Call loans reached 3¾ per cent, but the bulk of the business was at or below 3 per cent, and the closing quotations were 2½ to 2¾ per cent. The demand for currency from the interior continued unabated, and traders fell to discussing the probable showing to be made in tomorrow's bank statement. Since last Friday the banks have lost a little more than $4,000,000 through subtreasury operations, and the direct shipments of currency are said to have been large. There was some calling of loans yesterday, and the trust companies were the largest lenders. It was reported that $10,000,000 on deposit in New York for account of Chicago banks had been loaned this week, and the expectation is that the bank statement will show a large reduction in loans, and possibly an increase in surplus reserve.

The Bank of England statement showed a decrease in reserve of $3,715,000, an increase in loans of $4,625,000, and a decrease of the reserve to liability to 44.95 per cent, which is the lowest point for the season. The weekly statement of the Bank of France showed an increase of $6,630,000 in gold and a decrease of $38,648,000 in general deposits. It is probable that the Imperial Bank of Germany will this week raise its rate of discount. There is a general belief that a large Russian loan is about to be floated, and that the foreign money markets will be quite firmer for the next few weeks at least. Wall street commission houses which have been contending that there would be no cause for uneasiness in the money market, now suggest that it might be well to limit stock market operations until the outlook is a little clearer.

Amalgamated Copper held relatively better than other stocks, considering the amount of bearish pressure it sustained, and it closed only ⅜ lower for the day. United States Steel preferred was weak and declined a point to 101½, but it subsequently recovered a portion of the loss and closed only ⅛ lower. The common closed ¾ lower at 35. The minor iron and steel issues closed ¼@¾ per cent lower.

Reading broke a point shortly after the opening, but received good support and was the only active railroad stock which closed higher than on Wednesday. The lowest price on Union Pacific was reached shortly before the close, and its net loss was ⅝ per cent. St. Paul closed 1 per cent lower. The largest net declines were in stock like New York Central, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Erie.

Commodity markets were irregular. Grain closed higher, but cotton was weak and lower. It was reported that a bull pool in cotton was carrying at least 300,000 bales on which a heavy loss had been incurred, and that some of the selling of stocks was for the purpose of supporting the deal in cotton.

National Fire Proofing preferred made a strong rally in the local market, advancing to and closing at 28¼. The common rallied to 7½ and closed at 7⅛. It was reported that the hitch in the bond deal had been straightened out, and that the matter would be satisfactorily disposed of at the monthly meeting of the directors next week. The rest of the market, with the exception of Tonopah Extension, was dull and irregular. Extension advanced to $6 on transactions footing up 1,880 shares, and closed firm. Lustre declined ½ to 37, and United Copper was quoted at 35 bid.

Pittsburgh Coal relapsed into dullness, only 10 shares changing hands at 54½ and the stock closing at 54 bid. The common stock and River Coal preferred were entirely neglected. Crucible Steel common closed unchanged at 12½, while the preferred declined ¾ to 63⅞. Manufacturers Light and Heat sold unchanged at 36⅜@36½. Ohio Fuel Supply declined to 42⅞. Philadelphia Company shares were lower in the bid price, but there were no sales. Westinghouse Electric declined to 83 and closed at 82½ bid. The only transaction in bonds was $1,000 Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s at 103, an advance of 1 per cent.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

Sales on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday were as follows:

Amalgamated Copper held better than the other industrials.

Reading the only railroad stock to close higher.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It was again demonstrated yesterday that the Bank of England has not lost its influence upon the money market. The usual effect of a change in the discount rate by that institution was witnessed throughout the financial world. No previous change had been made since early in the spring and it was not since September of two years ago that the interest rate charged by the bank has moved upward. The successive changes since that date have been downward from 4 per cent to the 2½ per cent which ruled since last spring until yesterday's advance to 3 per cent. The active demand from Paris upon London for gold and the large engagements there for shipments to South America seem to be the immediate explanation for the action. Discounts hardened in Berlin and Paris in response. There was a rise in the early price for exchange checks on London in New York, but a reaction occurred later under renewed offerings of bankers' bills in the exchange market induced by the continued hardening of money rates. Call money rates went to above 3 per cent in Wall street, and the asking rates for time loans were advanced by many lenders. The liquidation effected in the stock market seemed nevertheless to have relieved the money market to some extent, and the rising tendency in New York exchange at Chicago indicated that the higher rates for loans were affecting the interior demand. The call by the state banking commissioner at Albany for a statement of condition of New York banks and trust companies as of September 2 revealed another requirement upon the money supply for the building up of the cash reserves of trust companies to prepare for this quarterly requirement.

The report that martial law had been declared in Tokyo on account of the rioting in that city, may have had something to do with the decline of Japanese bonds on the New York stock exchange, but before the close the loss was recovered, except for the second series 4½s, which closed ¼ lower. The total sales of the four bonds foot up $3,149,000.

The only change of note in the local curb market was the decline in North Butte, which was down to 37½. Oriental and Marsden was quoted at 58c bid, 59c asked. Luna Park was offered at 10. Tecumseh Oil and Gas was quoted at 86 bid. Window Glass Machine stocks were unchanged.

A seat in the Chicago board of trade yesterday sold at $3,000.

A. E. Masten, senior member of the firm of A. E. Masten & Co., was yesterday elected a member of the Boston stock exchange. Mr. Masten is the first Pittsburgher to be elected a member of that exchange, although local traders are largely interested in several of the copper stocks quoted in that market.

The sale of Philadelphia Company preferred at 47¼ represented a decline of 1¼ points from the last previous sale.

Owing to the fact that Pittsburgh Coal bonds are not listed on any exchange, there is a wide difference between reported quotations. One large financial institution quotes the bonds at 107 and interest asked. Another financial institution which was a subscriber for a large block of the bonds offers them at 105 and interest. It was reported yesterday that the bonds were offering here from New York at 104 and interest.

United States government new 4s advanced ¼ per cent on call in New York.

The annual report of the American Hide and Leather Company shows trading profits of $1,374,422, an increase of $395,107.

Any purpose to take action toward the money market was disclaimed as an object of the visit of the secretary of the treasury to Wall street yesterday. But the stock market community has formed a habit from the experience of several years of looking to special treasury operations during the fall season for relief from other encroachments on the money market.

When Amalgamated Copper was selling at 69¾ yesterday Jacob Field bid 81 for 5,000 shares and did not get the stock.

"We still believe the market a sale on all rallies," was the opinion expressed by a large Wall street commission house yesterday.

The enthusiastic reports from the steel trade of the sales of steel rails and other forms of railroad equipment for 1906 delivery made a sustaining influence and served to steady the United States Steel stocks, the weakness of which was a sentimental influence in disturbing the market on Wednesday.

The earnings of 63 railroads which have reported for July show an increase, of 9.80 per cent in gross and 7.67 per cent in net.

The New York tax on stock transfers went into effect June 2 last and it is estimated that the state has received $823,584 therefrom to date.

The gross earnings of New York Central for August were $8,149,156, an increase of $824,825.

The American Tobacco Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on its preferred stock, payable October 2.

The American Snuff Company has declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1¼ per cent on its preferred stock and 2½ per cent on its common stock, both payable October 2.

The German Trust Company of Pittsburgh has declared a dividend of $2, payable October 3 to stock of record September 30.

Directors of Chicago & Eastern Illinois have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock.

Directors of the St. Louis & San Francisco have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on the first preferred stock.

The heaviness in Union Pacific was a depressing influence. In other stocks there was not much liquidation. It is said a large speculative account was being closed out in Union Pacific.

EAST END DEALS FOR RESIDENCES

David Dickson Secures Bradley Place House for $25,000 for a Home.

$90,000 WILKINSBURG DEAL

The last one of the vacant residences in Center avenue, Bradley place, was sold yesterday to David Dickson, a gardener on Neville island, for $25,000. The property belonged to Edward H. Good of the Camp's World Detective agency, and is one of the houses which McCready & Moore completed last year. It is of the center hall type, handsomely finished in hardwood, and has two tile bathrooms, with other modern improvements. The lot measures 50x150 feet. It is said the purchaser will occupy the place as a home. The Bradley place property has been one of the most remarkable sellers in the city the last two years and the houses erected are of such a character as to insure a very desirable neighborhood permanently.

Through the agency of J. A. Young & Co., J. P. Kleiman, an East End saloonkeeper, has purchased the property of J. G. Greaves at 1064 Sheridan avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $18,000. The house is a modern reception hall brick dwelling on a lot 40x139 feet, and is only a short distance from Wellesley avenue. The purchase was made for a home.

$90,000 Sale in Wilkinsburg.

The largest deal for Wilkinsburg acreage made for a long time was closed yesterday when E. G. Reilly and James F. Bailey secured from John C. Reilly 17 acres of the former Singer property in the First ward for $90,000. The property adjoins the Singer plan on the east side and is one of the choicest plans in the East End. The owners propose to subdivide it at once and have already let the contract for the grading of the streets to Patterson and Barrett. Granolithic sidewalks will be provided and sewer, gas and water connections will be installed at an early date. A feature of the plan will be that the lots will be large. Considering the nearness to Wilkinsburg this makes them very advantageous for sites for handsome homes, such as are to be found in Singer place.

James F. Powell has sold to Edward Snodgrass, Jr., three properties for a total of $42,500. The most valuable is 48x120 feet, at the southwest corner of Wharton and South Nineteenth streets, Twenty-sixth ward, which James F. Powell recently secured from George N. Powell for $21,000. This lot is improved with a number of brick buildings. Another property in the deal is a modern brick house on 30x97 feet on the west side of Ivy street, near Ellsworth avenue, Twentieth ward. The other lot is 82x100 feet, improved, in Sheridan avenue, near James street, Nineteenth ward.

Fine Plan Starts Today.

The Curran-Algeo allotment, the cream of the West Liberty district, will be put on the market today by the Real Estate Trust Company. The plan lies in the heart of the West Liberty district, being surrounded on every side by the new allotments opened within the last two years and commands one of the finest views on that side of the Monongahela river. It contains 228 lots, which will be sold on 5 per cent payments at prices ranging from $150 to $350. The property is in point of distance one of the most desirable that has ever been put on the market here, as it is only 10 minutes' ride from the postoffice and can be reached by either the Beechwood, Brookline or Charlerol cars, giving it the best of service. It abounds in handsome home sites and the streets are graded down to the lines provided by the borough authorities. The lots run back to an alley and are well drained by a complete sewerage system. They are of three sizes—30x110 feet, 30x150 feet and 45x110 feet. On the two farms which have thus been united in a large orchard, which is likely to be the first center of attraction for homeseekers. Considering the location and the natural attractions of the property, it should be disposed of at short notice.

Important Downtown Deal.

A deal of considerably over $100,000 was so far along last night that there is little probability but that it will go through. If consummated, it means the erection of another $100,000 warehouse in the downtown district. Full details of the transaction were withheld at the request of the principals.

James F. Powell has purchased from John Ruhl a brick house on 30x97 feet in Ivy street, near Ellsworth avenue, Twentieth ward, for $5,800.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has secured title to the property occupied by the Pittsburgh & Whitehall railroad for $75,000. The property is 20 feet wide and 2,514 feet long, and extends along South Twenty-first street from Josephine street northward to the holdings of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny Railroad Company. It figures at the rate of $1.49 a square foot, and furnishes a connecting link between the Pennsylvania and Lake Erie systems.

Best August With One Exception.

August furnishes the largest total of building operations ever rolled up in Pittsburgh, with the exception of August, 1901, when some permits were taken out for big structures. The gain over last year was only slight in amount, and there were fewer buildings authorized, showing that the average cost of this year's structures is larger. Below are given the totals for the August of the last six years:

Year.	Number of Permits.	Amount.
1905	271	$1,276,301
1904	288	1,226,545
1903	254	799,083
1902	325	1,256,485
1901	313	1,443,214
1900	318	774,468

Of the permits issued last month 162 were for new buildings, estimated to cost $1,143,265; 51 for additions, to cost $74,980; 58 for alterations and repairs, to cost $68,056.

Architect F. J. Osterling has awarded to Calheon & Miller the contract for the residence of Joseph G. Wirick, North Negley avenue and Tryant street, Nineteenth ward, which will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Architect George H. Schwan is about ready for estimates on the parish house of the Christ Episcopal church in Union avenue, Allegheny, which will cost about $50,000.

New Plan at Turtle Creek.

Things are so prosperous in the Westinghouse neighborhood that the Turtle Creek Land and Improvement Company has decided to put on an addition to its Electric allotment, starting the sale tomorrow. The addition, which will be under the direct charge of John E. Kane, manager of the company, will comprise 500 lots, ranging from 25x100 feet to 25x175 feet. These will be sold on easy payments at from $200 up. In the last six weeks the company has sold 76 lots and there are now 20 houses in course of erection on the property. All the streets in the original plan have been improved and the usual street improvements will be provided in the addition soon. The electric light system will also be extended to the addition in a short time. The Westinghouse works are running better now than for two years, and their employes are taking advantage of the good times to get homes near their work.

The John K. Ewing Company, enlarged by the working force of the Union Realty Company, which it bought last Saturday, is getting nicely fixed in its big suite of offices in the Columbia National Bank building. Yesterday order was brought out of apparent chaos and by tomorrow business will be running as formerly in the office as if the new arrivals had not been transported but a few days previous.

Two Allegheny Sales.

Charles H. Seidel has purchased from the Henry J. Bailey estate a residence property, 40x120 feet, on the west side of Buena Vista street, Second ward, Allegheny, for $11,600.

The Tenth ward school of Allegheny has secured title for $7,500 to 145x250 feet at the northwest corner of Maryland avenue and Ellwood street, which formerly belonged to George W. Pusey and others.

Rodman street: S. H. Lloyd sold for Edward C. Schweitzer to J. H. Greenberg an eight-room brick house on 22x100 feet in Rodman street, Nineteenth ward, for $5,000.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The market for coffee futures opened steady, net unchanged to 10 points lower under a continuance of Wall street liquidation. But offerings from this source were not so heavy as on previous day and there was a fair scattering demand, promoted by fairly steady cables and light Brazilian receipts. The market continued around opening figures during the early session, but rallied in the afternoon and closed steady net unchanged to 5 points higher. Sales were reported of 62,500 bags, including September at 6.95c; October, 6.85c; November, 7.05@7.15c; December, 7.15@7.25c; January, 7.25c; March, 7.40@7.45c; May, 7.50@7.55c; July, 7.60@7.65c; spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice, 8¾c; mild quiet; Cordova, 10@13c. Sugar, raw unsettled; fair refining, 3½@3 5-16c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3¾@3 15-16c; molasses sugar, 3¾ 1-16c; refined quiet.

Evaporated Fruits.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The market for evaporated apples shows no material change. Prime fruit for October-November delivery is offering at 7¼c, but spot supplies are unchanged; common to good are quoted at 4½@6c; prime at 6½@6¾c; choice at 7@7½c; fancy at 8c. Prunes are firmly held, with quotations varying from 4½c, according to grade. Apricots continue in light demand and in some instances holders are reported less firm in their views. Spot quotations are unchanged, however, with choice quiet at 8¼c; extra choice at 8½c; fancy at 9½@10c. Peaches show no fresh feature, with fancy quoted at 11 1-2c. Raisins are quiet but firm, with buyers holding off for opening prices on the new crop. Loose Muscatel are quoted at 5½@7¼c; seeded raisins at 5½@8¾c; London layers at $1 60@1 25.

Turpentine and Rosin.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Sept. 7.—Spirits turpentine firm at 62½c. Rosin firm, at $3 20. Tar firm at $1 80. Crude turpentine firm at $2 75, $4 25 and $4 25.

SAVANNAH, GA., Sept. 7.—Turpentine firm at 63c. Rosin firm. Quote A B C, $3 85; D, $3 65; E, $4 05; F, $4 15; G, $4 25; H, $4 30; I, $4 35; K, $4 40, M, $4 45; N, $4 50; W G, $4 55; W W, $5 40.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 7.—Turpentine and rosin, nothing doing.

GREEN GOODS PRICES SUFFER MANY CHANGES

Almost Everything in the List Drops Down, Owing to Heavy Receipts and Weather.

Quotations shifted on nearly everything in the green goods line yesterday, and the changes were almost all in favor of the consumer. Heavy receipts are largely responsible for this condition of affairs. Farmers also are rushing their goods into market, fearing early frosts which will greatly damage tender garden stuff. Potatoes made a material drop yesterday, the white variety being largely forced down by the abundance of sweets, which are as cheap as the other kind, and are displacing them to a great extent on account of the high price. Peaches, pears, plums, apples and all kinds of fruits were marked down except lemons. The Messina article is the only one new in the market. The Californias are dope and the price of Messina lemons no longer admits of penny lemonade, as they are selling as high as $5 50 a box.

Butter and eggs showed weakness yesterday, although no change was made in quotations. Butter is weaker in other cities than it is in Pittsburgh. This is liable to cause a surplus to be shipped in here and knock the bottom out of the local market next week, although butter is really not so plentiful as it might be.

Flour, coffee and sugar are in about the same condition they have been for a couple of weeks. A cut of 10 cents today in flour would not be surprising. Sugar seems to be losing its strength, probably due to the fact that heavy buying for the canning season is now over, dealers having all the stock they will need.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania—7 cars hay, 5 cars corn, 9 cars oats, 1 car straw, 3 cars feed. Baltimore & Ohio—1 car hay, 1 car corn, 1 car oats. Lake Erie—6 cars hay, 1 car rye, 1 car oats.

Receipts were not so heavy yesterday and dealers were able to get some of the surplus worked off. Clover and mixed hay is somewhat easier and prices a little lower. The grain market is firm in the west the last few days, which will give the market here a stronger tone.

OPERATORS FAIL TO FIND ANY LARGE OIL PRODUCERS

Development work in the lower sanded wells is now bringing very large producers in the Ohio. In a few districts there is a small increase in new work, but it is inside of defined limits and of no importance to any except those directly interested. The discovery of a new pool would have a different effect and cause a rush to the locality because nothing in sight seems so attractive.

In the Yellow Creek field in Carroll county, Mallory Bros. & Stewart's second test on the Martha A. Cobeely farm is a better producer than was first indicated when drilled into the pay. The well produced 35 barrels the first 12 hours.

In Grant district, Ritchie county, the Stewart United Oil Company's No. 16 on the Kennedy Oil Company's farm is producing 100 barrels a day. This well is inside of defined territory. In the Wick district, Tyler county, the Ohio Oil Company has drilled in its No. 5 on the C. W. Eberhardy farm and the well is flowing at the rate of 60 barrels a day. In the same district, the same company's No. 4 on the H. C. Watson farm is holding up at 70 barrels a day. The Monroe Oil & Gas Company's No. 2 was 15 on the T. H. Edwards farm are holding up at 30 barrels each. Kinzie & Co., Center district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the W. H. Lemley farm through the Gordon and found that formation barren. It is now drilling to the lower sands.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the S. J. Elzer farm through the slate and developed a third show of oil. It is now drilling to the Gordon. The Walhonding district, the South Penn has drilled its second test on the D. K. Parlow farm 12 feet into the Gordon and it produced 60 barrels the first 24 hours. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 70 on the Hamlin-Walker farm through the fifth sand and found that formation barren. It will make a third pumper from the Gordon. In the same district, the South Penn's No. 7 on the J. H. Hendershot farm is through the fourth sand and produced 12 barrels the first 24 hours. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 4 on the McIntyre-Patterson farm 18 feet into the Gordon and the well is showing for a 25-barrel producer.

The new Bowen gas development on the Cadiz anticline, south of the old Greenville district, is making a creditable showing and the indications are favorable for considerable new work in that district. The Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the John Dougherty farm through the Berea grit and had a 10-barrel gasser. In the same district, the Ohio Oil Company has drilled on the Samuel Smith farm, from the Big Injun sand, in which it was formerly a producer, to the Berea grit and has a five-barrel pumper. Drilling old wells from the upper formation to the Berea promises to become a feature of the season.

In Cow Run district, Washington county, the Cumberland Oil Company has drilled its No. 12 on the I. Fredericks farm through the Berea grit and has a show for a 20-barrel pumper. In the Wolf Creek district, the Chartiers Park Oil Company has drilled on Mr. Lee on the Piatt & Chapman farm through the Third Cow Run sand and had a 5-barrel pumper. In the Muskingum field, the Minerva Oil Company has drilled on No. 3 on the John Bacon farm through the Berea grit and had a flutter. In the same district, J. A. Dutton has drilled on No. 13 on Bercaw farm through the Berea grit and had but the same kind of luck. In Mercer county, Hendrickson & Co. have drilled on the Lowell, Hendrickson county, No. 1 on the Lowell farm and had a duster. In the Clay district, the Kane Sand Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the Rogers farm and has a good 5-barrel pumper. On Wheeling Creek, Alonzo Edwards, the Wheeling Natural Gas Company has completed a test on the W. T. Weimer farm and has a fair gasser.
